

Approved CBD and CBG Varieties

Listed below are the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP)-approved CBD/ CBG varieties of hemp seed, clones, and transplants. For 2020, these varieties can be grown in Wisconsin based on a lab analysis or certificate of analysis indicating a total delta-9 tetrahydrocannabinol (total delta-9 THC) concentration of 0.3% or below.

Warning:

Approval to grow does not guarantee a variety will pass DATCP’s pre-harvest regulatory test. Growers are responsible for monitoring their crops.

Any variety approval based upon a certificate of analysis may be based on sampling and testing procedures that are inconsistent with the Wisconsin Hemp Pilot Research Program’s sampling and testing procedures. Therefore, there is risk that any future crop of this variety grown in Wisconsin could have a regulatory total delta-9 THC result that is above the regulatory limit of 0.3%.

Any future crop that fails DATCP’s required pre-harvest regulatory test with a total delta-9 THC concentration of above 0.3% will be ordered to be destroyed if a pre-harvest re-sample is not available or not conducted.

To seek approval for a CBD/ CBG variety not on this list, send your license number; your name; the name of the variety; the name of the supplier; and a lab analysis of the variety (often referred to as a certificate of analysis) using any of the following methods:
