In-person Drug Residue Industry Supervisor Workshops Canceled

The Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP) will be offering remote training and testing in place of in-person Drug Residue Industry Supervisor Workshops scheduled for the fall of 2020. Due to the difficulties of hosting in-person workshops during the COVID-19 pandemic, the fall workshops are cancelled.

DATCP hopes to make the training available as video modules on the department website in the near future. Once the videos are posted, DATCP will send instructions on how to access the training videos and accompanying materials. We will then offer remotely proctored testing.

Because of the limitations of online testing, we will only provide testing to facilities where all of the approved industry supervisors will have their approval expire before October 2021. Facilities requiring someone to take the written test this year to remain approved will be contacted by DATCP via email/letter with instructions on signing up for the written tests. Written testing will be limited to 2 people per facility at one time.

Provisions will be made for facilities that do not have the technological resources to complete online training and testing. Those facilities will be contacted separately.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact your laboratory evaluation officer:
