

National Animal Cruelty Investigations School

Wisconsin Humane Officer Training

Who should attend?

- Humane officers who have been appointed but not yet certified
- Law officers who investigate animal abuse and neglect
- Individuals interested in becoming a humane officer

What topics are covered?

We teach a systematic approach to investigating animal cruelty complaints, including:

- The animal investigator's role
- Rules of evidence
- Rules of search and seizure
- Civil liability
- Wisconsin and constitutional animal law
- Facility standards
- Evaluation of cruelty
- Nutrition
- Body conditioning and scoring
- Pet shop investigations
- Photographing and sketching
- Crime scene protection and evidence collection
- Interviewing and interrogation
- Report writing
- Courtroom testimony
- Crisis intervention and officer safety

Certification

After completing the coursework and passing the examination on the last day, you will be eligible to be certified as a humane officer. You will then need to apply for certification by the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (DATCP). If you are a law officer, you do not need to be certified, but you can apply the course toward your recertification training requirement.
