Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection
Ben Brancel, Secretary

DATE: September 21, 2017

TO: Board of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection

FROM: Jeff Lyon, Interim Secretary
Steve Ingham, Division of Food & Recreational Safety Administrator

SUBJECT: ATCP 75, Retail Food Establishments and ATCP 75 Appendix, *The Wisconsin Food Code

PRESENTED BY: Steve Ingham

REQUESTED ACTION:

At the September 21st, 2017, Board meeting, the department will ask the Board to authorize public hearings on a proposed rule and appendix (copies attached) related to Retail Food Establishments.

SUMMARY:

Background

In July of 2016, the Department's Division of Food Safety merged with the Division of Health Service's (DHS's) Food Safety and Recreational Licensing (FSRL) section. Subsequent changes have been made to merge the two food safety systems. With restaurants now regulated under the authority of DATCP, the scope of their operations changed significantly because restaurants became "retail food establishments" with the right to do a limited amount of wholesaling. The proposed ATCP 75 contains language that specifically clarifies the responsibilities for establishments with a food processing plant license exemption that are doing a limited amount of wholesaling to meet the safety, processing, and labeling requirements for the production of food for wholesaling. These rule modifications not only enhance the ability of retailers to do limited amounts of wholesaling, but does so by ensuring a level playing field for establishments that are currently wholesaling. The modifications also ensure that requirements are in place to provide the food safety controls that are necessary for products being sold at remote locations. These controls are routinely required in ATCP 70 and necessitate food processors to maintain a written recall plan and a written food safety plan.

This rule repeals and recreates ATCP 75, Retail Food Establishments, and ATCP 75 Appendix, The Wisconsin Food Code. This rule was necessary to update and merge Wisconsin's retail food regulations and incorporate changes and updates from the 2009 FDA Food Code to the 2013 FDA Food Code, to incorporate changes from the most recent national Conference on Food Protection, to address vending machine and micro-market issues, and to modernize and clarify parameters for food processing under a retail food establishment license.

Rule Content

The Department is updating ch. ATCP 75 by incorporating large parts of repealed ch. DHS 196 (Restaurants) and repealing rules in ch. ATCP 75 dealing with agent programs. These agent program rules are now found in the new ch. ATCP 74 (Local Agents and Regulation), which also incorporates rules from the repealed ch. DHS 193.

With the merger, changes must be made to merge the different rules used by the two agencies. In addition to new language clarifying the responsibilities of food retailers who take advantage of the exemption from the requirement to hold a food processing plant license under ch. ATCP 70 but wholesale up to 25% of their gross food sales, the proposed ch. ATCP 75 will incorporate, for the first time, specific definitions for “wholesaling” and “retailing” which are now being incorporated into chs. ATCP 70 and ATCP 55 to provide guidance, clarity, and uniformity for food processors and retailers in Wisconsin.

As previously stated, the proposed ATCP 75 contains language that specifically clarifies the responsibilities for retail food establishments exempt from the requirement to hold a food processing plant license but also doing a limited amount of wholesaling, and to follow the ATCP 70 safety, processing, and labeling requirements for the food produced for wholesaling. This not only ensures that all persons doing similar business activities are similarly regulated, but also ensures that all businesses selling at remote locations have the enhanced food safety processes in place, such as a written recall plan and a written food safety production plan as required by rules in ch. ATCP 70.

A major change in this rule is the elimination of the exemption from the requirement to hold a retail food establishment license for persons holding either a meat establishment license issued by the Department or a grant of meat / poultry inspection from the federal government. Prior to the adoption of this rule, those meat establishments were allowed to retail up to 25% of total meat sales without a retail license because of the pervasive state or federal inspection of meat processing. However, recent discussions between the regulators in food and meat inspection have made it clear that meat and poultry products, sold at retail but not imbued with the state or federal mark of inspection, and other aspects of a retail food establishment, were not being inspected by meat inspection staff. The result of this oversight means that those establishments with meat establishment licenses or federal grants of inspection would not be able to retail any product other than meat or poultry products bearing the legend. With the proposed rule, the department would make it possible for them to continue to sell a full line of products while assuring the consuming public that the food products were subject to a proper inspection. It also levels the playing field for businesses already licensed to produce meat and poultry products only for retail sale.

The Department worked to combine the duties, activities, and expectations of both the merged agencies in a way that eliminates duplication, clarifies expectations, and, to the extent possible, ensures that multiple licenses are not needed. The Department has, however, balanced these objectives with its responsibility to the public and its mission as food safety regulators to ensure that all food is produced according to law and under some form of inspection. For some situations, such as meat establishments that produce some products under state or federal inspection with a mark of inspection and some product without that inspection or mark, the proposed rule will allow an additional retail license from the state or local agency with jurisdiction in that area, as well as the state meat establishment license or federal grant of inspection.

The new rule focuses on defining and clarifying the rules for micro-markets, vending machines, and the commissaries that serve both of those business types. The commissaries for both micro-markets and vending machines are now to be licensed as food processing plants, which reflects the operations of these commissaries. In addition, micro-markets are defined with the recognition that they operate without a person in charge at all times in overseeing their operations, which is a requirement for other types of retail food establishments.

Greater clarification is also given to the Department's rules for Hazard Analysis Critical Control Point ("HACCP") Plans and HACCP variances, including the procedure for variance applications. New language also simplifies the protocols that establishments must follow for doing vacuum packing and sous-vide processing.

A significant change in the Wisconsin Food Code deals with cheese curds. The Department proposes to include language that references a process authority study on cheese curds, which validates the 24-hour at-room temperature rule and, moreover, allows the Department to meet Standard 1 of the FDA's Retail Food Regulatory Standards Program.

This proposed rule harmonizes the different licensing rules used by DHS and the Department for mobile retail food establishment bases. The application of the different sets of rules created a licensing inequity between those operations, depending on the overseeing agency. These inconsistencies have now been eliminated, and the proposed rule also clarifies the rules for using those bases.

The Department renumbered and consolidated many provisions in the Wisconsin Food Code to achieve greater ease in use and to allow for the incorporation of rules on micro-markets and vending machines. The Department has also revisited the criteria for licensing fees, changing from income-and-sales-volume-based fees to risk-complexity-based fees.

Other clarifications, changes, and additions include the following:

- Language and terminology are standardized and clarified between the two merged programs.
- The definitions section is expanded to facilitate understanding of the merged language and the new programs.
- The Wisconsin Food Code is rearranged to help clarify its contents and applications. It is also expanded to stay current with recent federal and state initiatives.

Fiscal Impact

No new staff will be required for DATCP to enforce the proposed rule and appendix. These rules replace and update rules that are already in effect. DATCP will train staff in the new requirements, and the new requirements will be enforced as part of the normal inspection.

Business Impact

The rule should not have a major economic effect on retail food establishments since it mainly replaces and updates current rules.

For those retail food establishments requiring a licensed base, already-licensed mobile restaurants will see no change in requirements because their bases were licensed under the DHS rules that were transferred to the department. Mobile retail food establishments that operate at special events or at temporary events will not need this license, just as mobile restaurants operating at temporary events (such as farmers' markets) currently do not need the licensure.

For those operators with a base serving mobile retail food establishments that only sell non-perishable packaged foods, the effect will also be minimal. The only operators who may face increased regulatory requirements, and the associated expenses to meet them, are those operators who are also doing complex processing and preparation of potentially hazardous food. Some activities performed in those settings must also be done under the HACCP system, such as fish processing that would require implementation of a Seafood HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR part 123, as cited in s. ATCP 70.18), juice processing that would require implementation of a Juice HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR part 120, as cited in s. ATCP 70.23), or the processing and/or repacking of marine shellfish that would require compliance with the HACCP-based Marine Shellfish Program found in s. ATCP 70.21.

The major change in ch. ATCP 75 is the change in the criteria for assigning license fees. The rule more realistically ties the cost of the license to the complexity and food safety hazards of the processing activities going on and not to the size of the establishment and dollar volume of sales. In many cases, larger establishments that may have been paying a higher license fee because of the sales volume will now pay a lower fee if their processing is not complex or hazardous. The Department's analyses suggest that the overall change in total license fees charged will be negligible. The proposed licensing fee criteria more fairly reflects the time and personnel costs to the Department for the inspection.

The additional retail license should not pose a major fiscal impact on plants operating under state or federal meat inspection programs. Both meat inspection programs require all inspected products to be produced under HACCP. The retail program will be willing to accept state or federal HACCP plans for cured or shelf-stable products, and already requires them under the retail program. If the proposed rule is not approved, it may not be possible for establishments operating under USDA or Wisconsin meat inspection programs to continue to operate unlicensed, uninspected retail outlets.

Environmental Impact

This rule will have no environmental impact.

Federal and Surrounding State Programs

Federal Programs

The FDA does not directly regulate retail food safety, and thus does not have a retail inspection or regulation program. Every four years, the FDA promulgates an updated version of the Model Food Code which is presented as a guide that is generally used in formulating state regulations or directly adopted by state programs. The department is currently using the 2009 version. This proposed rule will incorporate the changes made to the 2013 FDA version as well as changes made to reflect the upcoming 2017 FDA version.

Surrounding State Programs

Our surrounding states have adopted various versions of the Model Food Code. Retail food establishments in Illinois are licensed at the county or municipal level. Cook County does not have a separate category for mobile retail food establishment bases. Licensing fees for retail food establishments are based on whether the establishment has seats for customers, and if not, the total area occupied by the business. Chicago differentiates licenses for mobile food dispensers and mobile food preparers. Minnesota has different license categories for mobile and stationary retail food businesses, with the fee based on sales volume. There is no separate Minnesota license category for mobile retail food establishment bases. Retail food establishments (not restaurants) in Minnesota are primarily regulated by the Department of Agriculture. Minnesota restaurants are primarily regulated by county or municipal agencies. Hennepin County, for example, sets license fees based on menu breadth, degree of hazard of menu items, and size of operation, with separate categories for mobile and itinerant businesses. Iowa has a separate license category for a commissary serving a mobile retail food establishment. The retail food establishment category in Iowa includes restaurants. Michigan includes restaurants as a type of retail food establishment and has separate categories for mobile and mobile commissary operations. This rule is thus consistent with rules in some neighboring states.

Next Steps

If the Board authorizes public hearings on this rule, DATCP will refer a copy to the Legislative Council Rules Clearinghouse which will publish a hearing notice in the Wisconsin Administrative Register. DATCP will hold public hearings on the dates listed and at the several locations throughout the State that will be specified in the hearing notice. The hearing dates and locations have not yet been determined.

Following the public hearings, DATCP will prepare the final draft rule which will be presented for the Board's consideration and, if approved by the Board, then transmitted to the Governor for his written approval. If approved, DATCP will transmit that final draft rule to the Legislature for review by the appropriate legislative committees. If the Legislature takes no action to stop the rule, the Secretary will sign the final rulemaking order and transmit it for publication.

COMPREHENSIVE LIST of PROPOSED CHANGES
TO ATCP 75 AND ATCP 75, APPENDIX, THE WISCONSIN FOOD CODE
BY THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE,
TRADE AND CONSUMER PROTECTION'S
DIVISION OF FOOD AND RECREATIONAL SAFETY

The Division of Food and Recreational Safety (DFRS) has provided a hearing draft for the Board and the Governor's Office as is required in the rule making process. This includes a summary of the changes made to the rule, ATCP 75, and to the ATCP 75, Appendix, The Wisconsin Food Code. A large percentage of the changes involve simply rearranging chapters, changing formatting, merging, expanding, and clarifying regulatory language from the previous rules, and adding a large number of definitions that are not new, but have been added in the interest of clarity. There are also several substantive changes as well as new regulatory categories that have been added.

The DFRS is also providing this comprehensive list of the changes made in the interest of transparency that lists much more exhaustively than the Hearing Draft document where the changes were made and what these changes specifically entail.

BACKGROUND and SUMMARY:

Background

The completion of the merger between the Food Safety and Recreational Licensing program from the department of health services (DHS) and the Retail Food program at the department of agriculture, trade and consumer protection (DATCP), Division of Food Safety, created a new Division in DATCP called Food and Recreational Businesses. Although previous DHS administrative rules (ss. DHS 196 and 198) and sections of s. 254, Stats., were incorporated into existing DATCP administrative rule s. ATCP 75 and s. 97, Stats., much overlap, many slight procedural differences, and several language and terminology inconsistencies existed.

DATCP has also enrolled in the FDA's Voluntary Retail Food Standards program. This has necessitated an in-depth look at our merged program and has pointed out the need for these changes and modifications.

Finally, ATCP 75, the Appendix, The Wisconsin Food Code, is also undergoing its regular four-year update to meet the requirements in the 2013 FDA Model Food Code. Wisconsin last updated the Appendix back in 2009. Because the FDA updates the Model Food code every 4 years, the state follows suit, one four year cycle behind the FDA, which allows DATCP to stay reasonably current and avoid the need to make substantive changes that may conflict with FDA positions. This process also enables the state to incorporate updates made to the previous code at the most recent Conference for Food Protection.

Rule Content

As stated, administrative rule s. ATCP 75 and ATCP 75, Appendix, have been recreated to reflect the changes that resulted from the merger of FSRL with DATCP. Wording was changed throughout to provide greater clarity and synchronize terms. Subchapter, section, and subsection chapter titles were also recreated throughout to more clearly reflect the content of the rule. New business models, such as “micro markets”, were defined and incorporated into the rule. As a result of the merger, two separate and distinct licensing models existed. This was addressed by recreating the licensing model based on the risk associated with the food establishment operation. No licensing fees were changed at this time. The licensing model reflects a move to a risk-based approach in assessing food establishment operations and our costs incurred by inspecting higher risk, more complex operations. New sections were also created to enable Wisconsin’s food safety program to meet the FDA Retail Food Standards. This creates consistent language across all types of retail food establishments. While ATCP 75, Appendix, was also updated to meet the current 2013 FDA Model food Code, much of the rule has remained unchanged in spite of some re-arranging and clarification. The following is a summary of additions or modification that were made to increase consistency, reflect current food safety practices, and provide clarification.

Subchapter I — Definitions and General Provisions

ATCP 75.01, Authority and purpose.

- The Authority and Purpose section was created to add clarity by clearly defining the department’s statutory authority and its relationship with local health departments.
- The Authority and Purpose section also details the department’s purpose and incorporates language for consideration of existing equipment.

ATCP 75.02, Applicability.

- The Applicability section spells out the types of retail food establishment operations that are covered under the rule.

ATCP 75.03, Adoption of Wisconsin food code.

- The Appendix in s. ATCP 75, the Wisconsin Food Code, is updated to the 2013 FDA Model Food Code and is in the format of the Model Food Code to ensure uniformity. This section gives us the authority to adopt the FDA’s version and to change it as needed to suit our needs in Wisconsin.

ATCP 75.04, Definitions. The following are changes to existing definitions or new definitions that have been incorporated.

- “Active Managerial Control” refers to the monitoring and verification of food safety systems that the person in charge is responsible for in a retail food establishment.
- “Additional area” specifically defines those areas in a retail food establishment separate from the primary food processing area that contribute to the overall food operation.
- “Catering” was changed to add more clarity to the definition of the function of catering activities.
- “Cold holding” was added for to clarify the concept of the control of pathogens in food by keeping foods cold if they could support the growth of pathogens or the formation of toxins if held above certain temperatures for certain amounts of time.
- “Community or social event” was added for clarification to define what organizations can run and operate those events.
- “Concession stand” defines food stands that serve meals in conjunction with a locally sponsored sporting events.
- “Condiment” defines non-meal food items used to enhance the serving or consuming of food.
- “Contract cook” clarifies the definition of a contract cook.
- “Cooling” was added to clarify the time and temperature controls required to meet specific cooling parameters that ensure food safety.
- “General public” in the section of what “is not” considered the general public, expanded the sentence to include 26 USC 501 (c) (3) to nonprofit charitable organizations. The addition of 26-USC 501 (c) (3) is added throughout the rule.
- “Hot holding” was added to clarify the requirements for time and temperature control of food held hot to ensure safety.
- “Imminent health hazard” clarifies the situations in which immediate corrective action is needed to protect public health.
- “Meal” enhanced the current definition by stating that food samples are not considered a meal.
- “Micro Market” is a new definition added to describe a retail food establishment that is unmanned where consumers select food items from storage units prior to paying for their purchases at a kiosk.

- “Micro market operator” defines the operator of a micro market.
- “New” defines the difference between operating with a license from the department for the first time and various forms of renewal of an existing license.
- “Occasional”, used in terms of events, changed from definition from 3 days to 12 days.
- “Personal Chef” defines parameters of a personal chef.
- “Restaurant (retail food establishment- serving meals)” was included to differentiate the difference between a restaurant and retail food store. A restaurant is termed defined as a “retail food establishment – serving meals”.
- “Retail” was added to provide clarity to the definition of the concept of what constitutes a retail sale.
- “Retail food establishment” This was changed to explain to the different types of retail food establishments that have existed since the 2016 merger. “Retail food establishments” now include retail food establishments serving meals, retail food establishments not serving meals, Mobile and transient operations, vending machines and micro markets.
- “Retail food establishment serving prepackaged meals” defines a type of retail food establishment where all food items are prepackaged for individual customer service.
- “Transient retail food establishment” replaces the previously used term “temporary” to reduce confusion created by the merger of the two separate rules that existed prior to the DFS/FSRL merger.
- “Time/temperature control for safety food” or “TCS food” is a recently-created definition used to describe foods that must remain under temperature control to ensure food safety.
- “Wholesale” was added to describe what constitutes a wholesale food activity and what makes it different from a retail sale..

Subchapter II – Licensing and fees

ATCP 75.06, Retail food establishments; licensing.

- ATCP 75.06 (3) added license holder qualifications to clarify what is needed to hold a retail food establishment license. This was added to help the department meet the FDA retail food standards, and promote consistency with other states.
- ATCP 75.06 (4) added license holder responsibilities to clarify what a retail food establishment license holder responsibilities are when holding a license from the department. This was added as part of the FDA retail food standards and promotes consistency with nationwide standards.

- ATCP 75.06 (5) in this section, license exemptions were modified to address concerns related to the exemption from the requirement to hold a retail food license. The exemption for a retail food license under an operation currently licensed as a state or federally inspected meat establishment has been removed completely to address a regulatory loophole. USDA prohibits inspection of any other food operations other than meat operations. Consequently, retail food establishment food operations that occur in a meat establishment are currently not inspected. Many complex food operations such reduced oxygen packaging, fermentation and curing are occurring at the retail level and require licensure and inspection by the department. Contract cook and personal chef operations criteria have been included in the exemption section.
- ATCP 75.06 (6) this section has been clarified to describe what conditions need to be met to obtain a license from the department and the reasons a license may be withheld.
- ATCP 75.06 (7) adds clarification on the department's actions and responsibilities when it receives a license application.
- ATCP 75.06 (8) added to meet Wisconsin food code requirements and provided consistency with all mobile retail food establishment operations, all mobile food establishments must have a licensed base. It also sets up criteria for honoring retail food establishment bases in other States.
- ATCP 75.06 (10) adds clarification for when a pre-licensing inspection will occur and if a fee is part of the pre-licensing inspection.

ATCP 75.08 Retail food establishment fees.

- The department has modified existing tables to establish a risk assessment tool that is used to place a retail food establishment into a licensing category based on the risk of the food operation. This type of assessment tool more closely reflects the amount of time needed to perform inspections based on the degree of complexity and associated food safety risk associated with the processing being done in retail food establishments.
- This section creates a uniform licensing structure based on simple, moderate and complex food operations. While licensing fees were not changed, it is anticipated that some retail food establishments will move between license complexity categories.
- This section creates tables that can more easily be used by operators and inspection staff.

Subchapter III – Enforcement and appeals

- This section remains unchanged, except for additional statutory language from s. 97, Stats., to help clarify the enforcement section. The rationale for including this is to promote uniformity in the application of these rules, and to help staff and industry understand the procedures that need to take place in situations that may be more-than-normally-stressful.

Subchapter IV – Standards for retail food establishments

- This section creates criteria for representatives from the department and its agents who conduct retail food establishment inspections. This section creates consistency by incorporating standards to be used while performing department inspections, and it sets forth details, frequency, and the mandate to document the inspection and other actions at the retail food establishment.

Subchapter V - Vending of Food

- This section reflects the previous DHS rule s. DHS 198 vending, which has been eliminated and incorporated into s. ATCP 75. Several sections were removed to reduce the redundancy of similar language in the ATCP 75, Appendix.
- Vending machine commissaries have been removed from retail and will now be included in s. ATCP 70 Food Processing Plants.
- Vending machine storage area have also been removed from retail and will now be included in s. ATCP 71, Food Warehouses and Milk Distributors.

Subchapter VI – Micro Markets

- This section was created to develop standards for the new business model that features unattended retail food establishments. The standards were modeled from industry standards, from the guidance document developed by the National Conference for Food protection, and with input from our corporate food safety partners.

Appendix – The Wisconsin Food Code

- Formatting and updates were included throughout to bring the Appendix in line with the current 2013 FDA Model Food Code and suggested changes to the pending 2017 FDA Model Food Code. Only new additions and significant changes are reflected here. We also did quite a bit of rearranging, but that did not involve changes.

PROPOSED ORDER OF THE WISCONSIN DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE,
TRADE AND CONSUMER PROTECTION
ADOPTING RULES

1 The Wisconsin department of agriculture, trade and consumer protection hereby proposes the 2 following rule to repeal and recreate ATCP 75 relating to retail food establishments, and to
3 repeal and recreate ATCP 75, Appendix, The Wisconsin Food Code, also relating to the 4 regulation of retail food establishments and affecting small business

Analysis Prepared by the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection

The Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (“Department”) proposes to repeal and recreate ATCP 75 (Retail Food Establishments) and also repeal and recreate ATCP 75, Appendix (Wisconsin Food Code). This rule is necessary to update the Wisconsin Food Code, as the Department is currently operating on the Wisconsin version of the 2009 Federal Food and Drug Administration (FDA) Model Food Code. This new rule, if adopted, will bring Wisconsin into substantial accord with the FDA 2013 Model Food Code, currently in use.

Normally, the Department updates the Wisconsin Food Code every four years, but this cycle the Department is also updating ch. ATCP 75 (Retail Food Establishments) due to the merger of the Department’s Division of Food Safety with the Department of Health Service’s (DHS’) Food Safety and Recreational Licensing section in July of 2016. The current Division of Food and Recreational Safety (DFRS) must merge, clarify, and update the rules regulating all retail food establishments, both meal-serving (restaurants) and non-meal serving, as DFRS now oversees licensing and inspection of both business types.

Statutes Interpreted

Statutes Interpreted: ss. 97.30, Stats., “Retail food establishments;” 97.29, Stats., “Food processing plants;” 97.42, Stats., “Compulsory inspection of livestock or poultry, and meat and poultry products;” 97.605, “Lodging and vending licenses,” and 97.61, Stats., “Vending machine commissary outside the state.”

Statutory Authority

Statutory Authority: ss. 93.07 (1), 97.09 (4), 97.30 (5), 97.29 (5), Stats.

Explanation of Statutory Authority

The Department has broad general authority, pursuant to s. 93.07 (1), Stats., to adopt rules to implement programs under its jurisdiction. The Department also has general authority, pursuant to s. 97.09 (4), Stats., to adopt rules specifying standards to protect the public from the sale of adulterated or misbranded foods. The Department has specific authority, pursuant to s. 97.30 (5), Stats., to adopt rules for retail food establishments dealing with fees; setting facility construction and maintenance standards; setting rules for the design, installation, maintenance, and cleaning of equipment and utensils; personnel standards; food handling and storage; sanitary production and processing of food; food sources; and food labeling.

Related Statutes and Rules

Since the merger with DHS's Food Safety and Recreational Licensing section in July of 2016, the Department regulates food from farm to table. Once it leaves the farm, food is almost entirely the responsibility of DFRS, and it is regulated, pursuant to ch. 97, Stats., as well as various, inter-related administrative rules that often either mirror or reference federal law. Relevant administrative rules cover retail food establishments (ATCP 75 and its Appendix), food processing plants (ATCP 70), dairy plants and farms (ATCP 65), and food warehouses (ATCP 71), as well as meat and poultry inspection and processing (ATCP 55). The Department also references and mirrors much of the 2013 FDA Model Food Code, as well as FDA Model Food Code updates accepted by the FDA since 2013.

Plain Language Analysis

The Department is updating ch. ATCP 75 by incorporating large parts of repealed ch. DHS 196 (Restaurants) and repealing rules in ch. ATCP 75 dealing with agent programs. These agent program rules are now found in the new ch. ATCP 74 (Local Agents and Regulation), which also incorporates rules from the repealed ch. DHS 193.

With the merger, changes must be made to merge the different rules used by the two agencies. In addition to new language clarifying the responsibilities of food retailers who take advantage of the exemption from the requirement to hold a food processing plant license under ch. ATCP 70 but wholesale up to 25% of their gross food sales, the proposed ch. ATCP 75 will incorporate, for the first time, specific definitions for "wholesaling" and "retailing" which are now being incorporated into chs. ATCP 70 and ATCP 55 to provide guidance, clarity, and uniformity for food processors and retailers in Wisconsin.

As previously stated, the proposed ATCP 75 contains language that specifically clarifies the responsibilities for retail food establishments exempt from the requirement to hold a food processing plant license but also doing a limited amount of wholesaling, and to follow the ATCP 70 safety, processing, and labeling requirements for the food produced for wholesaling. This not only ensures that all persons doing similar business activities are similarly regulated, but also ensures that all businesses selling at remote locations have the enhanced food safety processes in place, such as a written recall plan and a written food safety production plan as required by rules in ch. ATCP 70.

A major change in this rule is the elimination of the exemption from the requirement to hold a retail food establishment license for persons holding either a meat establishment license issued by the Department or a grant of meat / poultry inspection from the federal government. Prior to the adoption of this rule, those meat establishments were allowed to retail up to 25% of total meat sales without a retail license because of the pervasive state or federal inspection of meat processing. However, recent discussions between the regulators in food and meat inspection have made it clear that meat and poultry products, sold at retail but not imbued with the state or federal mark of inspection, and other aspects of a retail food establishment, were not being inspected by meat inspection staff. The result of this oversight means that those establishments with meat establishment licenses or federal grants of inspection would not be able to retail any product other than meat or poultry products bearing the legend. With the proposed rule, the department would make it possible for them to continue to sell a full line of products while assuring the consuming public that the food products were subject to a proper inspection. It also levels the playing field for businesses already licensed to produce meat and poultry products only for retail sale.

The Department worked to combine the duties, activities, and expectations of both the merged agencies in a way that eliminates duplication, clarifies expectations, and, to the extent possible, ensures that multiple licenses are not needed. The Department has, however, balanced these objectives with its responsibility to the public and its mission as food safety regulators to ensure that all food is produced according to law and under some form of inspection. For some situations, such as meat establishments that produce some products under state or federal inspection with a mark of inspection and some product without that inspection or mark, the proposed rule will allow an additional retail license from the state or local agency with jurisdiction in that area, as well as the state meat establishment license or federal grant of inspection.

The new rule focuses on defining and clarifying the rules for micro-markets, vending machines, and the commissaries that serve both of those business types. The commissaries for both micro-markets and vending machines are now to be licensed as food processing plants, which reflects the operations of these commissaries. In addition, micro-markets are defined with the recognition that they operate without a person in charge at all times in overseeing their operations, which is a requirement for other types of retail food establishments.

Greater clarification is also given to the Department's rules for Hazard Analysis Critical Control Point ("HACCP") Plans and HACCP variances, including the procedure for variance applications. New language also simplifies the protocols that establishments must follow for doing vacuum packing and sous-vide processing.

A significant change in the Wisconsin Food Code deals with cheese curds. The Department proposes to include language that references a process authority study on cheese curds, which validates the 24-hour at-room temperature rule and, moreover, allows the Department to meet Standard 1 of the FDA's Retail Food Regulatory Standards Program.

This proposed rule harmonizes the different licensing rules used by DHS and the Department for mobile retail food establishment bases. The application of the different sets of rules created a licensing inequity between those operations, depending on the overseeing agency. These inconsistencies have now been eliminated, and the proposed rule also clarifies the rules for using those bases.

The Department renumbered and consolidated many provisions in the Wisconsin Food Code to achieve greater ease in use and to allow for the incorporation of rules on micro-markets and vending machines. The Department has also revisited the criteria for licensing fees, changing from income-and-sales-volume-based fees to risk-complexity-based fees.

Other clarifications, changes, and additions include the following:

- Language and terminology are standardized and clarified between the two merged programs.
- The definitions section is expanded to facilitate understanding of the merged language and the new programs.
- The Wisconsin Food Code is rearranged to help clarify its contents and applications. It is also expanded to stay current with recent federal and state initiatives.

Federal and Surrounding State Programs

Federal Programs

The FDA does not directly regulate retail food safety, and thus does not have a retail inspection or regulation program. The FDA promulgates the Model Food Code which is presented as a guide that is generally used in formulating state regulations or directly adopted by state programs.

Surrounding State Programs

Surrounding states have adopted various versions of the FDA Model Food Code. Retail food establishments in Illinois are licensed at the county or municipal level. Cook County does not have a separate category for mobile retail food establishment bases. Licensing fees for retail food establishments are based on whether the establishment has seats for customers and if not, the total area occupied by the business. Chicago differentiates licenses for mobile food dispensers and mobile food preparers. Minnesota has different license categories for mobile and stationary retail food businesses, with the fee based on sales volume. There is no separate Minnesota license category for mobile retail food establishment bases. Retail food establishments (not restaurants) in Minnesota are primarily regulated by the Department of Agriculture. Minnesota restaurants are primarily regulated by county or municipal agencies. Hennepin County, for example, sets license fees based on menu breadth, degree of hazard of menu items, and size of operation, with separate categories for mobile and itinerant businesses. Iowa has a separate license category for a commissary serving a mobile retail food establishment. The retail food establishment category in Iowa includes restaurants. Michigan includes restaurants as a type of retail food establishment and has separate categories for mobile and mobile commissary operations. This rule is thus consistent with rules in some neighboring states.

Data and Analytical Methodologies

The Department reviewed the changes in the FDA Model Food Code as well as changes that will be coming in the new FDA Model Food Code that are based on changes adopted in recent FDA meetings. The Department has also reviewed Wisconsin statutes and rules for food processing plants, meat and poultry inspection, and dairy plants, as well as current industrial practices, to identify areas where greater consistency can be achieved and eliminate discrepancies between the two food inspection programs existing prior to July of 2016. Feedback on the rule was solicited from members of the Food Safety Advisory Council (FSAC), a group comprised of business and local health department agent representatives. The proposed changes in criteria for license fees were tested by applying the criteria to businesses familiar to FSAC members and by evaluating the license fee change to each retail food establishment in a representative county.

Effect on Small Business

The rule should not have a major economic effect on retail food establishments since it mainly replaces and updates current rules.

For those retail food establishments requiring a licensed base, already-licensed mobile restaurants will see no change in requirements because their bases were licensed under the DHS rules that were transferred to the department. Mobile retail food establishments that operate at special events or at temporary events will not need this license, just as mobile restaurants operating at temporary events (such as farmers' markets) currently do not need the licensure.

For those operators with a base serving mobile retail food establishments that only sell non-perishable packaged foods, the effect will also be minimal. The only operators who may face increased regulatory requirements, and the associated expenses to meet them, are those operators who are also doing complex processing and preparation of potentially hazardous food. Some activities performed in those settings must also be done under the HACCP system, such as fish processing that would require implementation of a Seafood HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR part 123, as cited in s. ATCP 70.18), juice processing that would require implementation of a Juice HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR part 120, as cited in s. ATCP 70.23), or the processing and/or repacking of marine shellfish that would require compliance with the HACCP-based Marine Shellfish Program found in s. ATCP 70.21.

The major change in ch. ATCP 75 is the change in the criteria for assigning license fees. The rule more realistically ties the cost of the license to the complexity and food safety hazards of the processing activities going on and not to the size of the establishment and dollar volume of sales. In many cases, larger establishments that may have been paying a higher license fee because of the sales volume will now pay a lower fee if their processing is not complex or hazardous. The Department's analyses suggest that the overall change in total license fees charged will be negligible. The proposed licensing fee criteria more fairly reflects the time and personnel costs to the Department for the inspection.

The additional retail license should not pose a major fiscal impact on plants operating under state or federal meat inspection programs. Both meat inspection programs require all inspected products to be produced under HACCP. The retail program will be willing to accept state or federal HACCP plans for cured or shelf-stable products, and already requires them under the retail program. If the proposed rule is not approved, it may not be possible for establishments operating under USDA or Wisconsin meat inspection programs to continue to operate unlicensed, uninspected retail outlets.

Standards Incorporated by Reference

Substantial sections of the 2013 FDA Model Food Code were incorporated where they did not conflict with our compliance and enforcement programs.

16 needed to enforce this chapter or a rule promulgated under this chapter. The department shall 17 examine any samples secured and shall conduct other inspections and examinations needed to 18 determine whether there is a violation of this chapter. The department shall pay or offer to pay 19 the market value of samples taken.

20 (b) Reinspections. The department or its agent may re-inspect a retail food establishment
21 whenever an inspection or the investigation of a complaint reveals the existence of a violation
22 that is potentially hazardous to the health and welfare of patrons or employees of the retail food
23 establishment. The time between an inspection, investigation, and a reinspection shall be

1 sufficient to allow the owner time to correct the deficiencies. A reinspection fee shall be charged
2 for the reinspection according to s. ATCP 75.06, Table B, or the applicable charges as
3 determined by an agent of the department. If an additional reinspection is required because a
4 violation has not been corrected, the department shall assess the owner an additional reinspection
5 fee according to s. ATCP 75.06, Table B or the applicable charges as determined by an agent of 6 the department. The department may order the owner to show just cause why the license should 7 not be suspended or revoked under s. ATCP 75.12.

8 (2) GENERAL ORDERS TO CORRECT VIOLATIONS. (a) If upon inspection of a 9 retail food establishment, the department or agent finds that the retail food establishment is not 10 designed, constructed, equipped or operated as required under ch. 97 Stat., ch. ATCP 75,
11 Appendix, the department or agent shall issue a written order to correct the violation. The order
12 shall specify the correction needed for compliance and the deadline by which the correction shall 13 be made. The deadline specified in the order may be extended at the discretion of the department 14 or agent.

15 (b) If the requirements of an order to correct violations are not met by the deadline stated in 16 the order, or any extension of time granted for compliance, the department or agent may issue an 17 order under s. ATCP 75.12 to suspend or revoke the license to operate the retail food 18 establishment.

19 (c) Under s. 97.12 (5), Stats., any person who fails to comply with an order of the 20 department shall forfeit $50 for each day of noncompliance after the order is served upon or 21 directed to the person. A person may appeal a forfeiture under s. ATCP 75.14.

22 (3) HOLD ORDERS. As specified under s. 97.12 (2):

1 (a) Whenever any duly authorized inspector of the department has reasonable cause to
2 believe that any food examined by him or her is adulterated or misbranded and is dangerous to 3 health or misleading to the injury or damage of the purchaser or consumer, the inspector shall 4 issue and deliver to the owner or custodian of the food a holding order prohibiting the sale or
5 movement of the food for any purpose until the analysis or examination of the sample obtained
6 has been completed. A holding order may be effective for a period of no longer than 14 days
7 from the time of its delivery and it may be reissued for one additional 14-day period if necessary
8 to complete the analysis or examination of the food.

9 (b) No food described in any such holding order so issued and delivered shall be sold or 10 moved for any purpose without the approval of the department until such analysis or examination
11 has been completed within the time specified in par. (a). If the department upon completed 12 analysis or examination determines that the food described in such holding order is not 13 adulterated or misbranded, then the owner or custodian thereof shall be promptly so notified in 14 writing, and such holding order shall terminate upon such notification.

15 (c) Where the analysis or examination shows that the food is adulterated or misbranded and 16 is dangerous to health or misleading to the injury or damage of the purchaser or consumer, the 17 owner or custodian of the food shall be so notified in writing within the effective time of the 18 holding order. Such notice has the effect of a special order issued under s. 93.18 Stats. Upon 19 receipt of a notice the food subject to the holding order may not be sold, moved, disposed of or 20 brought into compliance with applicable standards without the approval of the department. If 21 such food is not brought into compliance, sold, moved or disposed of within 30 days, or other
22 agreed upon period of time, from the date the owner or custodian received notice that the food

1 was adulterated or misbranded, the department may issue an order directing the disposition of the 2 food. Such an order has the effect of a special order issued under s. 93.18 Stats.

3 (d) Any person violating an order issued under this section may be fined not more than the 4 maximum amount or imprisoned not more than one year in the county jail or both. The 5 maximum fine under this paragraph equals $10,000 plus the retail value of the product moved,
6 sold or disposed of in violation of the order issued under this section.

7 (4) SPECIAL ORDERS AND ORDERS TO ABATE A DANGER TO PUBLIC HEALTH.

8 As specified under s. 97.12 (3):

9 (a) The department may issue a special order as provided under s. 93.18 Stats., to any 10 person engaged in the production, processing, sale or distribution of food if the department finds 11 a violation of this chapter or the rules promulgated under this chapter. An order shall state the 12 violations found and shall specify a deadline for correction.

13 (b) If the department finds that a piece of equipment, a facility or a practice used is a 14 danger to public health, it may order that the situation be abated or eliminated immediately and 15 that the equipment, facility or practice not be used until the violation is corrected and the 16 correction is confirmed by the department. The department may, instead of issuing an order, 17 accept written agreements of voluntary compliance which have the effect of an order.

18 ATCP 75.12 Suspension or revocation of license. The department may, by summary
19 order and without prior notice or hearing, suspend a license issued under this chapter if the 20 department finds that there has been a substantial failure to comply with the applicable 21 requirements of this chapter and the rules promulgated under this chapter and that the 22 continuation of the violations constitutes a serious danger to public health. The order shall be in

1 writing, have the force and effect of an order issued under s. 93.18 Stats., and is subject to right
2 of hearing before the department, if requested within 10 days after date of service.

3 ATCP 75.14 Appeals of actions by the department, right of hearing. If requested in 4 writing within 10-days after date of the service of an order, a hearing shall be conducted within 5 10 days after receipt of a request for a hearing. Enforcement of the order shall not be stayed 6 pending action on the hearing.

7 ATCP 75.16 Appeals of actions by agent health departments. If an agent issues a
8 license under this chapter, the agent shall create and follow enforcement and appeal procedures
9 under s. 66.0417 Stats.

10 Subchapter IV – Standards for Retail Food Establishments

11 ATCP 75.18 Inspections by authorized representative. (1) QUALIFICATIONS OF THE 12 AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE. An authorized representative of the department or its 13 agent who inspects a retail food establishment or conducts a plan review for compliance with ch.
14 ATCP 75 and its Appendix shall meet the staffing qualification requirements set forth in s.
15 ATCP 74.08.

16 ATCP 75.20 Inspections. (1) REFUSED INSPECTION - PROCESS. If a person denies 17 access to the department or its agent, the department or its agent shall:

18 (a) Inform the person that:

19 1. The license holder is required to allow access to the department or its agent as specified
20 under s. ATCP 75.10 (1).

21 2. Access is a condition of the acceptance and retention of a retail food establishment license
22 to operate as specified under s. ATCP 75.05 (4).

1 3. If access to a retail food establishment is denied to an authorized representative of the 2 department or its agent, the department or its agent may apply for an inspection warrant to allow 3 access as provided in law under s. 66.0119 stats.

4 (b) Reporting refusal. If after the department or its agent presents credentials and provides 5 notice as specified under s. ATCP 75.10 (1), explains the authority upon which access is 6 requested, and makes a final request for access as specified in s. ATCP 75.20 (1) (a) 4., the 7 person in charge continues to refuse access, the department or its agent shall document details of 8 the denial of access on an inspection report form.

9 (2) FREQUENCY OF INSPECTION. (a) The department or its agent shall inspect a retail
10 food establishment at least once during the licensing period.

11 (b) The department may approve upon request, an increase in the interval between 12 inspections beyond 12 months if:

13 1. The retail food establishment licensed by the department or its agent is fully operating 14 under a department approved HACCP plan as specified under § 1-106.14, ch. ATCP 75
15 Appendix; or

16 2. A plan is submitted to the department detailing an inspection frequency based on the risk
17 of food establishment operations. The total number of inspections performed shall equal the 18 number of licenses issued.

19 Note: The intent of this provision is to allow greater inspection frequency for high-risk retail
20 food establishments by decreasing inspection frequency for low-risk retail food establishments.

22 (3) INSPECTION DOCUMENTATION. The department or its agent shall document on an 23 inspection report form:

24 (a) Administrative information about the retail food establishment's legal identity, street and 25 mailing addresses, type of establishment and operation, inspection date, and other information

1 such as type of water supply and sewage disposal, status of the license, and personnel certificates
2 that may be required at the retail food establishment; and

3 (b) The conditions or other violations from this chapter and ch. ATCP 75, Appendix, that 4 require corrective action by the license holder. The narrative shall contain:

5 1. Violation Observation – A factual description, including location, of the observed
6 violation.

7 2. Code Reference – Citation and a brief description of the statute, administrative rule, or 8 local ordinance for which noncompliance was observed.

9 3. Corrective Action – A statement indicating what action the licensee has taken, or shall 10 take, to regain compliance with the administrative rule, statute or local ordinance.

11 4. Unless otherwise indicated on the inspection report, each violation shall be provided with a 12 corrective action deadline. The corrective action deadline may be determined using the 13 following criteria:

14 a. The nature of the potential hazard involved and the complexity of the corrective action
15 needed. The department or its agent may agree to or specify a longer time frame, not to exceed 16 72 hours after the inspection, for the license holder to correct violations of a priority item; or

17 b. A maximum time of 10 calendar days may elapse after the inspection for the license holder
18 to correct violations of a priority foundation item or HACCP Plan deviation as defined in ch.
19 ATCP 75 Appendix.

20 c. The license holder shall correct core items as defined in ch. ATCP 75, Appendix, by a
21 deadline agreed to or specified by the department or its agent but no later than 90 calendar days
22 after the inspection. The department or its agent may approve a written compliance schedule that 23 extends beyond 90 calendar days if a written schedule of compliance is submitted by the license

1 holder and no health hazard exists or will result from allowing an extended schedule for 2 compliance.

3 (4) ISSUING A REPORT AND OBTAINING ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF RECEIPT.

4 At the conclusion of the inspection, an authorized representative of the department shall sign the 5 completed inspection report. The department or its agent shall then perform an exit interview
6 and obtain a signature on the inspection report from the licensee's designated person in charge.
7 A copy of the inspection report shall be left with the person in charge at the completion of the 8 inspection or e-mailed or otherwise presented thereafter, within 2 business days.

9 (5) REFUSAL TO SIGN INSPECTION REPORT. If the licensee's designated person in 10 charge refuses to sign the inspection report, the department or its agent shall do all of the 11 following:

12 (a) Inform a person who declines to sign the inspection report that a written acknowledgment
13 of receipt is not an agreement with findings.

14 (b) Inform the person that refusal to sign the inspection report will not affect the license
15 holder's obligation to correct the violations noted in the inspection report by the deadlines
16 specified.

17 (c) Document the refusal to sign in the inspection report.

18 Subchapter V – Vending Machines

19 ATCP 75.30 Applicability. (1) APPLICABLE RULES. In addition to the specific 20 requirements of ch. ATCP 75, vending machines must meet applicable requirements in chapters
21 1 to 7 in ch. ATCP 75, Appendix.

22 (2) APPLICABILITY. The provisions of this chapter apply to any vending machine offered
23 for public use, except a vending machine which dispenses only bottled, prepackaged or canned

1 soft drinks, candy, gum, nuts, nut meats, cookies, crackers, pastry items which have a pH level of
2 4.6 or below or a water activity (aw) value of 0.85 or less under standard conditions or are

7 shall be approved by the department, on the basis of construction criteria developed by the 8 national sanitation foundation (NSF) or the national automatic merchandising association
9 (NAMA);

10 (2) INSPECTION FOR EVIDENCE OF APPROVAL. Whenever an authorized employee or 11 agent of the department inspects a vending machine and finds that the vending machine does not 12 contain an identifiable license as required under s. ATCP 75.05, the authorized employee or 13 agent of the department shall place the vending machine in a non-vend position by sealing the 14 money or credit card insert slot, as applicable. Failure of the operator to maintain a non-vend
15 condition until an authorized employee or agent of the department is satisfied that the vending
16 machine is properly approved and identified shall be cause for an action under ss. 97.65, 97.72
17 and 97.73, Stats.

18 ATCP 75.34 Vending machine records. (1) RECORD. (a) A vending machine location

13 wall other than coin entrance, money or credit card slots, coin returns and crown pullers, but 14 including openings for optional service connections or alternate installations, shall be provided
15 with effective closures by the manufacturer. The closures shall be provided for these not-in-use 16 openings, and shall be easily identifiable, properly marked or adequately described in the 17 instruction manual for their intended use.

18 (c) Disconnection safeguards. All service connections to utilities shall be of a type that will 19 discourage their unauthorized or unintentional disconnection.

20 ATCP 75.38 Sanitization. (1) CLEANING AND SANITIZING FACILITIES. Approved
21 facilities for cleaning and sanitizing equipment shall be available for each vending machine
22 location or at a central location. If at a central location, product contact surfaces shall be 23 protected from contamination during storage, transportation, and installation. Facilities for

1 cleaning and sanitizing shall include either a permanently fixed three-compartment sink large
2 enough to accommodate the immersion of the largest equipment and utensil or portable washing
3 facilities such as a service wagon, metal or plastic pails, or another mobile device which can be
4 moved from one location to another.

6 readily removable, all surfaces intended for in-place cleaning shall be designed and fabricated so 7 that:

8 (a) Cleaning and sanitizing solutions can be circulated throughout a fixed system using an 9 effective cleaning and sanitizing regimen;

10 (b) Cleaning and sanitizing solutions will contact all food-contact surfaces;

11 (c) The system is self-draining or capable of being completely evacuated; and 12 (d) The procedures used result in thorough cleaning and sanitizing of the equipment.

13 ATCP 75.40 Waste disposal. (1) REMOVAL. All trash and other food product waste 14 material shall be removed from the machine location as frequently as may be necessary to 15 prevent attracting vermin, or creating a nuisance and unsightliness, and shall be disposed of in a 16 manner that will not attract insects or rodents.

17 (2) CONTAINERS. Self-closing, leakproof and easily cleanable refuse containers shall be 18 provided in the vicinity of each machine or machines to receive cartons, wrappers, and other 19 items of refuse.

20 (3) WASTE COLLECTION. (a) Containers shall be provided within all machines dispensing
21 liquid products in bulk for the collection of drip, spillage, overflow, and other internal wastes.

1 (b) An automatic shutoff device shall be provided which will place the vending machine out
2 of operation before a container overflows. The cutoff mechanism shall be set at a point to permit
3 removal of the waste container from the machine without spillage.

4 (c) Containers and surfaces on which wastes may accumulate shall be readily removable for 5 cleaning, easily cleanable, and corrosion resistant.

6 ATCP 75.42 Delivery of foods. Foods, including beverages and ingredients, in transit to 7 vending machine locations shall be protected from contamination with dirt, dust, insects, rodents,
8 and other foreign material. Similar protection shall be provided for single-service containers and 9 for the product contact surfaces of equipment, containers, and devices in transit to machine 10 locations.

- (2) A WAREWASHING system for CIP EQUIPMENT;

(C) Use of a nondistinct water rinse that is integrated in the hot water SANITIZATION immersion step of a 2-compartment sink operation;

(D) If using a WAREWASHING machine that does not recycle the SANITIZING solution as specified under ¶ (E) of this section, or alternative manual WAREWASHING EQUIPMENT such as sprayers, use of a nondistinct water rinse that is:

- (1) Integrated in the application of the SANITIZING solution, and
- (2) Wasted immediately after each application; or

(E) If using a WAREWASHING machine that recycles the SANITIZING solution for use in the next wash cycle, use of a nondistinct water rinse that is integrated in the application of the SANITIZING solution.

Initial Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

Rule Subject: Retail Food Establishments and the Wisconsin Food Code

Adm. Code Reference: ATCP 75, and ATCP 75 Appendix, The Wisconsin Food Code

Rules Clearinghouse #: Not assigned

DATCP Docket #: 15 – R - 16

Rule Summary

The Department is updating ch. ATCP 75 by incorporating large parts of repealed ch. DHS 196 (Restaurants) and repealing rules in ch. ATCP 75 dealing with agent programs. These agent program rules are now found in the new ch. ATCP 74 (Local Agents and Regulation), which also incorporates rules from the repealed ch. DHS 193.

With the merger, changes must be made to merge the different rules used by the two agencies. In addition to new language clarifying the responsibilities of food retailers who take advantage of the exemption from the requirement to hold a food processing plant license under ch. ATCP 70 but wholesale up to 25% of their gross food sales, the proposed ch. ATCP 75 will incorporate, for the first time, specific definitions for “wholesaling” and “retailing” which are now being incorporated into chs. ATCP 70 and ATCP 55 to provide guidance, clarity, and uniformity for food processors and retailers in Wisconsin.

As previously stated, the proposed ATCP 75 contains language that specifically clarifies the responsibilities for retail food establishments exempt from the requirement to hold a food processing plant license but also doing a limited amount of wholesaling, and to follow the ATCP 70 safety, processing, and labeling requirements for the food produced for wholesaling. This not only ensures that all persons doing similar business activities are similarly regulated, but also ensures that all businesses selling at remote locations have the enhanced food safety processes in place, such as a written recall plan and a written food safety production plan as required by rules in ch. ATCP 70.

A major change in this rule is the elimination of the exemption from the requirement to hold a retail food establishment license for persons holding either a meat establishment license issued by the Department or a grant of meat / poultry inspection from the federal government. Prior to the adoption of this rule, those meat establishments were allowed to retail up to 25% of total meat sales without a retail license because of the pervasive state or federal inspection of meat processing. However, recent discussions between the regulators in food and meat inspection have made it clear that meat and poultry products, sold at retail but not imbued with the state or federal mark of inspection, and other aspects of a retail food establishment, were not being inspected by meat inspection staff.

The result of this oversight means that those establishments with meat establishment licenses or federal grants of inspection would not be able to retail any product other than meat or poultry products bearing the legend. With the proposed rule, the department would make it possible for them to continue to sell a full line of products while assuring the consuming public that the food products were subject to a proper inspection. It also levels the playing field for businesses already licensed to produce meat and poultry products only for retail sale.

The Department worked to combine the duties, activities, and expectations of both the merged agencies in a way that eliminates duplication, clarifies expectations, and, to the extent possible, ensures that multiple licenses are not needed. The Department has, however, balanced these objectives with its responsibility to the public and its mission as food safety regulators to ensure that all food is produced according to law and under some form of inspection. For some situations, such as meat establishments that produce some products under state or federal inspection with a mark of inspection and some product without that inspection or mark, the proposed rule will allow an additional retail license from the state or local agency with jurisdiction in that area, as well as the state meat establishment license or federal grant of inspection.

The new rule focuses on defining and clarifying the rules for micro-markets, vending machines, and the commissaries that serve both of those business types. The commissaries for both micro-markets and vending machines are now to be licensed as food processing plants, which reflects the operations of these commissaries. In addition, micro-markets are defined with the recognition that they operate without a person in charge at all times in overseeing their operations, which is a requirement for other types of retail food establishments.

Greater clarification is also given to the Department's rules for Hazard Analysis Critical Control Point ("HACCP") Plans and HACCP variances, including the procedure for variance applications. New language also simplifies the protocols that establishments must follow for doing vacuum packing and sous-vide processing.

A significant change in the Wisconsin Food Code deals with cheese curds. The Department proposes to include language that references a process authority study on cheese curds, which validates the 24-hour at-room temperature rule and, moreover, allows the Department to meet Standard 1 of the FDA's Retail Food Regulatory Standards Program.

This proposed rule harmonizes the different licensing rules used by DHS and the Department for mobile retail food establishment bases. The application of the different sets of rules created a licensing inequity between those operations, depending on the overseeing agency. These inconsistencies have now been eliminated, and the proposed rule also clarifies the rules for using those bases.

The Department renumbered and consolidated many provisions in the Wisconsin Food Code to achieve greater ease in use and to allow for the incorporation of rules on micro-markets and vending machines. The Department has also revisited the criteria for licensing fees, changing from income-and-sales-volume-based fees to risk-complexity-based fees.

Other clarifications, changes, and additions include the following:

- Language and terminology are standardized and clarified between the two merged programs.
- The definitions section is expanded to facilitate understanding of the merged language and the new programs.
- The Wisconsin Food Code is rearranged to help clarify its contents and applications. It is also expanded to stay current with recent federal and state initiatives.

Small Businesses Affected

The rule should not have a major economic effect on retail food establishments since it mainly replaces and updates current rules.

For those retail food establishments requiring a licensed base, already-licensed mobile restaurants will see no change in requirements because their bases were licensed under the DHS rules that were transferred to the department. Mobile retail food establishments that operate at special events or at temporary events will not need this license, just as mobile restaurants operating at temporary events (such as farmers' markets) currently do not need the licensure.

For those operators with a base serving mobile retail food establishments that only sell non-perishable packaged foods, the effect will also be minimal. The only operators who may face increased regulatory requirements, and the associated expenses to meet them, are those operators who are also doing complex processing and preparation of potentially hazardous food. Some activities performed in those settings must also be done under the HACCP system, such as fish processing that would require implementation of a Seafood HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR part 123, as cited in s. ATCP 70.18), juice processing that would require implementation of a Juice HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR part 120, as cited in s. ATCP 70.23), or the processing and/or repacking of marine shellfish that would require compliance with the HACCP-based Marine Shellfish Program found in s. ATCP 70.21.

The major change in ch. ATCP 75 is the change in the criteria for assigning license fees. The rule more realistically ties the cost of the license to the complexity and food safety hazards of the processing activities going on and not to the size of the establishment and dollar volume of sales. In many cases, larger establishments that may have been paying a higher license fee because of the sales volume will now pay a lower fee if their processing is not complex or hazardous. The Department's analyses suggest that the overall change in total license fees charged will be negligible. The proposed licensing fee criteria more fairly reflects the time and personnel costs to the Department for the inspection.

The additional retail license should not pose a major fiscal impact on plants operating under state or federal meat inspection programs. Both meat inspection programs require all inspected products to be produced under HACCP. The retail program will be willing to accept state or federal HACCP plans for cured or shelf-stable products, and already requires them under the retail program. If the proposed rule is not approved, it may not be possible for establishments operating under USDA or Wisconsin meat inspection programs to continue to operate unlicensed, uninspected retail outlets.

Reporting, Bookkeeping and other Procedures

The proposed rule would not require any additional reporting, bookkeeping or other procedures.

Professional Skills Required

The proposed rule does not require any new professional skills by small businesses.

Accommodation for Small Business

A major change in these rules is the chart that assigns points for risk in processing. This replaces the chart that assigned a license based on the size of the operation and the dollar volume of sales. This rule does not actually make an accommodation for the size of the business as much as it makes accommodation for the complexity of the business. The FDA does not make accommodations for food safety practices based on size, so Wisconsin does not do so either, but non-complex operations of any size are now charged less for a license than a complex operation even if the dollar volume of sales is much higher for the non-complex.

Feedback on the rule was solicited from members of the Food Safety Advisory Council (FSAC), a group comprised of business and local health department agent representatives. The proposed changes in criteria for license fees were tested by applying the criteria to businesses familiar to FSAC members and by evaluating the license fee change to each retail food establishment in a representative county.

Conclusion

The provisions in this proposed rule will benefit Wisconsin's retail food industry and is expected to impose very limited additional costs. It is quite possible that many large, non-complex establishments will actually see a reduction in cost since they are no longer charged based on size and dollar volume of sales.

This rule will not have a significant adverse effect on "small business" and is not subject to the delayed "small business" effective date provided in s. 227.22(2)(e), Stats.

DATCP will, to the maximum extent feasible, seek voluntary compliance with this rule.

4. Plain Language Analysis of the Rule, its Impact on the Policy Problem that Justified its Creation and Changes in Technology, Economic Conditions or Other Factors Since Promulgation that alter the need for or effectiveness of the Rule.

The Department is updating ch. ATCP 75 by incorporating large parts of repealed ch. DHS 196 (Restaurants) and repealing rules in ch. ATCP 75 dealing with agent programs. These agent program rules are now found in the new ch. ATCP 74 (Local Agents and Regulation) which also incorporates rules from the repealed ch. DHS 193.

With the transfer of the Food Safety and Recreational Licensing section from Department of Health Services to the Department, changes were made to merge the rules used by the two agencies. In addition to new language clarifying the responsibilities of food retailers who take advantage of the exemption from the requirement to hold a food processing plant license under ch. ATCP 70 but wholesale up to 25% of their gross food sales, the proposed ch. ATCP 75 will incorporate, for the first time, specific definitions for “wholesaling” and “retailing” that are now being incorporated into chs. ATCP 70 and ATCP 55 to provide guidance, clarity, and uniformity for food processors and retailers in Wisconsin.

The proposed ATCP 75 contains language that specifically clarifies the responsibilities for retail food establishments exempt from the requirement to hold a food processing plant license but also doing a limited amount of wholesaling, and ensures that these establishments follow the ATCP 70 safety, processing, and labeling requirements for the food produced for wholesaling. This not only ensures all persons doing similar business activities are similarly regulated, but also ensures that all businesses selling at remote locations have the enhanced food safety processes in place (such as a written recall plan and a written food safety production plan), as required by rules in ch. ATCP 70.

A major change in this rule is the elimination of the exemption from the requirement to hold a retail food establishment license for persons holding either a meat establishment license issued by the Department or a grant of meat/poultry inspection from the federal government. Prior to the adoption of this rule, those meat establishments were allowed to retail up to 25% of total meat sales without a retail food establishment license because of the pervasive state or federal inspection of meat processing. However, recent discussions between the regulators in food and meat inspection have made it clear that meat and poultry products sold at retail, but not marked with the state or federal mark of inspection, as well as other aspects of a retail food establishment, were not being inspected by meat inspection staff. The result of this oversight is that those establishments with meat establishment licenses or federal grants of inspection would not be able to retail any product other than meat or poultry products bearing the legend. With the proposed rule, the department would make it possible for them to continue to sell a full line of products while assuring the consuming public that the food products were subject to a proper inspection. It also levels the playing field for businesses already licensed to produce meat and poultry products only for retail sale.

The Department worked to combine the duties, activities, and expectations of both the merged agencies in a way that eliminates duplication, clarifies expectations, and, to the extent possible, ensures that multiple licenses are not needed. The Department has, however, balanced these objectives with its responsibility to the public and its mission as food safety regulators to see that all food is produced according to law and under some form of inspection. In some cases, such as meat establishments that produce some products under state or federal inspection with a mark of inspection and some product without that inspection or mark, the proposed rule will allow an additional retail license from the state or local agency with jurisdiction in that area, as well as the state meat establishment license or the federal grant of inspection.

The new rule focuses on defining and clarifying the rules for micro-markets, vending machines, and the commissaries that serve both of those business types. The commissaries for both micro-markets and vending machines are now to be licensed as food processing plants, which reflects the operations of these commissaries. In addition, micro-markets are defined to reflect that they operate without a person in charge at all times in overseeing their operations, which is a requirement for other types of retail food establishments.

Greater clarification is also given to the Department's rules for Hazard Analysis Critical Control Point ("HACCP") Plans and HAACP variances, including the procedure for variance applications. New language also simplifies the protocols establishments must follow for doing vacuum packing and sous-vide processing.

A significant change in the Wisconsin Food Code deals with cheese curds. The Department proposes to include language that references a process authority study on cheese curds, which validates the 24-hour at-room temperature rule and, moreover, allows the Department to meet Standard 1 of the FDA's Retail Food Regulatory Standards Program.

This proposed rule harmonizes the different licensing rules that had been used by DHS and the Department, for mobile retail food establishment bases. Those different rules had created a licensing inequity between those operations, depending on the overseeing agency. These inconsistencies have now been eliminated, and the proposed rule also clarifies the rules for using those bases.

The Department renumbered and consolidated many provisions in the Wisconsin Food Code to achieve greater ease in use and to allow for the incorporation of rules related to micro-markets and vending machines. The Department has also revisited the criteria for licensing fees, changing from income-and-sales-volume-based fees to risk-complexity-based fees.

5. Describe the Rule's Enforcement Provisions and Mechanisms

The Department has broad general authority, pursuant to s. 93.07 (1), Stats., to adopt rules to implement programs under its jurisdiction. The Department also has general authority, pursuant to s. 97.09 (4), Stats., to adopt rules specifying standards to protect the public from the sale of adulterated or misbranded foods. The Department has specific authority, pursuant to s. 97.30 (5), Stats., to adopt rules dealing with fees; setting facility construction and maintenance standards; setting rules for the design, installation, maintenance, and cleaning of equipment and utensils; personnel standards; food handling and storage; sanitary production and processing of food; food sources; and food labeling.

7. Summary of the Impacts, including Compliance Costs, identifying any Unnecessary Burdens the Rule places on the ability of Small Business to conduct their Affairs.

EXISTING ADMINISTRATIVE RULES Fiscal Estimate & Economic Impact Analysis

The rule is expected to have minimal economic effect, as noted below.

Businesses and Business Sectors:

Under the rule, new mobile restaurants (i.e. food carts) will need an additional license for their restaurant "base." For those retail food establishments requiring a licensed base, already-licensed mobile restaurants will see no change in requirements because their bases were licensed under the DHS rules that were transferred to the department. Mobile retail food establishments that operate at special events or temporary events will not need this license, just as mobile restaurants operating at temporary events, such as farmers' markets, currently do not need it. Facilities already licensed as mobile restaurants will not be affected because their bases have the requisite license under prior rules of DHS. Mobile retail food establishments that operate at special events or temporary events and mobile restaurants operating at temporary events such as farmers' markets will not need the new base license .

For those operators with a base serving mobile retail food establishments that only sell non-perishable packaged foods, the effect will also be minimal. The only operators who may face increased regulatory requirements, and the associated expenses to meet them, are those operators who are also doing complex processing and preparation of potentially hazardous food. Some activities performed in those settings must also be done under the HACCP system, such as fish processing that would require implementation of a Seafood HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR part 123, as cited in s. ATCP 70.18), juice processing that would require implementation of a Juice HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR part 120, as cited in s. ATCP 70.23), or the processing and/or repacking of marine shellfish that would require compliance with the HACCP-based Marine Shellfish Program found in s. ATCP 70.21.

The major change in ch. ATCP 75 is the change in the criteria for assigning license fees. The rule more realistically ties the cost of the license to the complexity and food safety hazards of the processing activities going on and not to the size of the establishment and dollar volume of sales. In many cases, larger establishments that may have been paying a higher license fee because of the sales volume will now pay a lower fee if their processing is not complex or hazardous. The Department's analyses suggest that the overall change in total license fees charged will be negligible. The proposed licensing fee criteria more fairly reflects the time and personnel costs to the Department for the inspection.

The additional retail license should not pose a major fiscal impact on plants operating under state or federal meat inspection programs. Both meat inspection programs require all inspected products to be produced under HACCP. The retail program will be willing to accept state or federal HACCP plans for cured or shelf-stable products, and already requires them under the retail program. If the proposed rule is not approved, it may not be possible for establishments operating under USDA or Wisconsin meat inspection programs to continue to operate unlicensed, uninspected retail outlets.

The proposed changes in criteria for license fees were tested by applying the criteria to businesses in a representative county and evaluating the license fee change to each retail food establishment in that county.

The additional retail license should not pose a major fiscal impact on plants operating under state or federal meat inspection programs. Both meat inspection programs require all inspected products to be produced under HACCP. The retail program will be willing to accept state or federal HACCP plans for cured or shelf-stable products, and already requires them under the retail program. If the proposed rule is not approved, it may not be possible for establishments operating under USDA or Wisconsin meat inspection programs to continue to operate unlicensed, uninspected retail outlets.

EXISTING ADMINISTRATIVE RULES Fiscal Estimate & Economic Impact Analysis

Local Governmental Units and Public Utility Rate Payers:

The rule may have an impact on local governmental units because it defines licensing categories that may or may not be used by local agent health programs. It takes this into account, and also gives a fiscal year to adjust budgeting strategies when new rules or policies will have an impact on these local agencies. Overall, this is an update of existing regulations.

Fiscal Impact:

Because food processing plants are already regulated by DATCP, this rule will not have a significant fiscal impact on state government and DATCP will absorb any costs with current budget and staff. This rule may have minimal fiscal effect on local governments, but not on public utility rate payers, since the regulation of some retail food establishments occurs on a local level.

The Department anticipates a slight loss in retail food establishment licensing revenue (<5%) because of the revisions to the licensing category tables in the rule. However, it is possible that the loss in revenue would be balanced by potential revenue from new licensing of mobile restaurant bases and shifting many mobile restaurant bases and vending commissary licenses from agent programs to the Department. Some of those entities were operating as wholesalers and were not eligible for licensure by agent programs.

8. List of Small Businesses, Organizations and Members of the Public that commented on the Rule and its Enforcement and a Summary of their Comments.

No comments were received during the economic impact comment period held August 8 - September 7, 2017. However, feedback on the rule was solicited from members of the Food Safety Advisory Council (FSAC), a group comprised of business and local health department agent representatives.

9. Did the Agency consider any of the following Rule Modifications to reduce the Impact of the Rule on Small Businesses in lieu of repeal?

- Less Stringent Compliance or Reporting Requirements
- Less Stringent Schedules or Deadlines for Compliance or Reporting
- Consolidation or Simplification of Reporting Requirements
- Establishment of performance standards in lieu of Design or Operational Standards
- Exemption of Small Businesses from some or all requirements
- Other, describe: Licensing criteria: The rule more realistically ties the cost of the license to the complexity of the processing activities going on and the food safety risk of those activities. In some cases, larger establishments that may have been paying a higher license fee because of the sales volume will now have that fee reduced if their processing is not complex.

13. Summary of Costs and Benefits of Repealing or Modifying the Rule

This rule continues to ensure that Wisconsin's retail food establishments meet federal requirements by adopting the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) Food Code. Not implementing the rule would mean that Wisconsin retail food establishments would not meet FDA standards and would be doing some wholesaling in competition with Food Processing plants without adequate process controls or oversight. Some products in the retail meat industry would not even be regulated by anyone.

14. Did the Agency prepare a Cost Benefit Analysis (if Yes, attach to form)

EXISTING ADMINISTRATIVE RULES Fiscal Estimate & Economic Impact Analysis

15. Long Range Implications of Repealing or Modifying the Rule

The rule will continue to facilitate the working relationship between the department, the FDA, and the food processing industry. Long range implications include the continued vigilance of promoting healthy business practices that help businesses to grow and that ensure food safety guidelines are met.

16. Compare With Approaches Being Used by Federal Government

The FDA does not have a retail food inspection or regulation program. The FDA promulgates the Model Food Code which is presented as a guide that is used in formulating state regulations or adopted by state programs to promote a uniform level of food safety throughout the nation.

17. Compare With Approaches Being Used by Neighboring States (Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Minnesota)

Surrounding states have adopted various versions of the FDA's Model Food Code.

IL: Retail food establishments in Illinois are licensed at the county or municipal level. Cook County does not have a separate category for mobile retail food establishment bases. Licensing fees for retail food establishments are based on whether the establishment has seats for customers and if not, the total area occupied by the business. Chicago differentiates licenses for mobile food dispensers and mobile food preparers.

MN: Minnesota has different license categories for mobile and stationary retail food businesses, with the fee based on sales volume. There is no separate Minnesota license category for mobile retail food establishment bases. Retail food establishments (not restaurants) in Minnesota are primarily regulated by the Department of Agriculture. Minnesota restaurants are primarily regulated by county or municipal agencies. Hennepin County, for example, sets license fees based on menu breadth, degree of hazard of menu items, and size of operation, with separate categories for mobile and itinerant businesses.

IA: Iowa has a separate license category for a commissary serving a mobile retail food establishment. The retail food establishment category in Iowa includes restaurants.

MI: Michigan includes restaurants as a type of retail food establishment and has separate categories for mobile and mobile commissary operations.
