SUBJECT: Ch. ATCP 75– Retail Food Establishments and ATCP 75 Appendix, the Wisconsin Food Code; Final Rule Draft

PRESENTED BY: Dr. Steve Ingham

REQUESTED ACTION:

At the November 15, 2018 Board meeting, the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (“Department” or “DATCP”), will ask the Board to approve the final rule (copy attached) related to retail food establishments and the Wisconsin Food Code.

SUMMARY:

Background

The proposed rule repeals and recreates Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 (Retail Food Establishments) and its Appendix (Wisconsin Food Code). This rule will bring Wisconsin into substantial accord with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration’s (FDA) 2013 Model Food Code, currently in use.

The Department typically updates the Wisconsin Food Code every four years, but this cycle, the Department is also updating Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 due to the merger of the Department’s Division of Food Safety with the Department of Health Service’s (DHS) Food Safety and Recreational Licensing section in July of 2016. The present rule merges, clarifies, and updates the rules regulating all retail food establishments (RFEs), both meal-serving establishments (restaurants) and non-meal serving enterprises.

Rule Content

The rule updates Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 by incorporating significant rule provisions in the now-repealed Wis. Admin. Code ch. DHS 196 (Restaurants) and by repealing rules in Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 concerning agent programs. Agent program rules are currently found in Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 74 (Local Agents and Regulation), which also incorporates provisions from the repealed Wis. Admin. Code ch. DHS 192.

An equal opportunity employer

The transfer of DHS' FSRLS to DATCP's Division of Food Safety necessitated the merger of two food safety regulatory systems. One regulatory paradox was particularly in need of resolution: Restaurant operators could not wholesale food under the DHS rules, while RFE operators under DATCP's authority could engage in a limited amount of wholesaling without holding a food processing plant license. By statute, the Department now licenses restaurants as RFEs, and therefore, restaurants enjoy the same limited ability to wholesale food. The Department undertook the present rule-making process and by January of 2018 had developed a draft rule that for the first time included definitions of "wholesale" and "retail". The Department initially proposed to retain certain limitations and requirements derived from Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70 (Food Processing Plants) addressed to food processing activities for wholesale conducted by an RFE. The Department presented a final draft reflecting that framework to the Board of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection ("Board") in January 2018. Although the Board approved the draft, it became apparent in the aftermath of the Board meeting that industry participants felt that less restrictive limits and definitions would still adequately protect public health.

In light of this feedback, the Department opted to form a work group comprised of industry and local health department agent program representatives to further revise the rule. During deliberations, the work group determined that the safety of many food processing activities for wholesale, when done by RFEs, could be ensured by compliance with ATCP 75 and the ATCP 75 Appendix, and thus, no additional application of ATCP 70 requirements was necessary. The work group recognized that additional training would be necessary for local health department agent personnel, along with Department sanitarians, assigned to inspect RFEs performing these food processing activities for wholesale. The Department, as part of its ongoing work to train thoroughly food safety personnel at the state and local level, is committed to providing the necessary training.

The work group extensively discussed whether an RFE conducting food processing activities for wholesale, yet exempt from having to hold a food processing plant license, should be required to develop a written recall plan (as required in ATCP 70). Dairy plants and food processing plants must develop a written recall plan, but the work group reached consensus that this requirement was poorly suited and likely ineffective for businesses predominantly engaged in retail activities. As a result, the revised rule states that RFEs are responsible for notifying their wholesale customers of any adulterated or misbranded products that the RFE may have sold to them, as deemed appropriate for the protection of public health. The RFE operator will choose the notification mechanism.

The work group's efforts culminated in the newly revised final draft of ATCP 75, which does all of the following: a) re-defines "wholesale" and "retail", b) clarifies the exemption for RFEs from the requirement to hold a food processing plant license when conducting limited (not more than 25% of gross annual food sales) food processing activities for wholesale, and c) re-draws boundaries on what types of food processing activities for wholesale are allowed. Perhaps the most important change in the wholesale and retail definitions is that the Department will no longer regard the transfer of food between two RFEs or food processing plants as wholesaling, so long as the same license holder operates the two businesses involved and the licensee transferring the food does not relinquish control of the food. This change reflects current guidance by the FDA and follows the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) interpretations related to differentiating “retail” from “wholesale” transactions involving meat and poultry products.

The revised definitions for “wholesale” and “retail” reflect industry practice and the de facto usage of these terms in the marketplace, as well as the FDA’s interpretation and sanction of current industry practice. The new definitions also appear in the pending revision to Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70 (Food Processing Plants). The revised rule does continue to prohibit RFEs from processing canned low-acid or acidified foods for wholesale without holding a food processing plant license and complying with the requirements stated in Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70. The aim of the update definitions is to promote clarity and uniformity and ideally to facilitate enhanced business opportunities for industry participants.

RFEs operate under a wide range of business models, ranging from traditional restaurants, bakeries, and markets where all sales are made directly to consumers, on the one hand, to larger operations performing varying degrees of processing and wholesaling, on the other hand. The revisions to the rule take cognizance of a recently introduced business model in which a licensed RFE transports prepared food and conducts sales of individual meals directly to a workplace’s employees or guests of employees, for a limited number of days each week. Within boundaries delineated in the rule, an additional RFE license is not required for the workplace meal sales. The work group reviewed and approved this revision.

Some RFEs perform food processing for wholesale activities, which are regulated at the federal level by the FDA. This rule revision is calculated to ensure that these businesses do not fall outside the sweep of appropriate regulation. Wisc Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 and its Appendix specifically govern retail sales and the internal transfer of food between businesses operated by the same license-holding entity. As revised, the rule, with the addition of federal requirements for juice and seafood processing, will apply to RFEs that conduct wholesaling only to a limited extent ($\leq 25\%$ of gross annual food sales). Businesses that predominantly wholesale the food they process must effectuate enhanced food safety systems, as required by provisions in Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70.

With this rule revision, the Department has sought to eliminate duplication, clarify expectations, and, to the extent possible, avoid the need to procure multiple licenses for the same business. However, the Department justifiably weighed these objectives in the balance with safety concerns arising from gaps in regulation. Accordingly, this rule proposes that any business holding either a meat establishment license issued by the Department, or a grant of meat / poultry inspection from the federal government, must also obtain an RFE license if the business manufactures for retail sale any meat or poultry products that are never produced under meat inspection and never bear an inspection legend. Prior to this rule revision, meat establishments were allowed to retail up to 25% of total meat sales without holding an RFE license because of the frequent state or federal inspection of meat processing overall. However, it was adjudged during recent discussions that the available meat inspection resources are insufficient to adequately oversee meat and poultry products sold at retail without the state or federal mark of inspection and other safeguards attendant upon RFE status. Federal meat inspection staff are explicitly directed not to inspect retail meat and food operations. The rule revision eliminates the above-described exemption from the requirement to hold an RFE license. Expectations will thus be identical to those for businesses already licensed as RFEs to produce meat and poultry products only for retail sale.

The rule also defines and clarifies the rules for micro-markets, vending machines, and the vending machine commissaries defined in statute as serving both of those business types. The Department will license vending machine commissaries as food processing plants, which reflects the operations of these commissaries. In addition, the Department defines micro-markets so as to acknowledge that the latter typically operate without a human on the premises at all times to oversee operations, which is a requirement for other types of RFEs.

The revised Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 Appendix, Wisconsin Food Code, provides greater clarification regarding variances and Hazard Analysis Critical Control Point (“HACCP”) plans, including the procedure for variance applications. New language also simplifies the protocols that establishments must follow when performing vacuum packing and sous-vide processing.

A significant change in the Wisconsin Food Code pertains to cheese curds. The Department based the revised language on a recent study of the likelihood of pathogenic bacterial growth on cheese curds. The study validates the current 24-hour-at-room-temperature limit for display of cheese curds processed under Cheddar cheese-making conditions. This scientific support of storage requirements for cheese curds allows the Department to meet Standard 1 of the FDA’s Voluntary National Retail Food Regulatory Standards Program by providing validation for any protocols that differ substantively from the FDA Model Food Code.

In response to industry comments, the Department added requirements for rendering recent inspection results available to the public, along with a prohibition against any grading or scoring of RFEs based on inspection reports or other criteria. The intent of these provisions is to avoid problems arising in the event that different jurisdictions utilize discrepant grading or scoring systems or some jurisdictions employed a grading system while others did not. The Department believes that actual inspection reports will tend to be more informative than grades or scores and will allow consumers to draw their own conclusions about the merits of a given RFE.

This revised rule also harmonizes the different requirements that previously existed across DHS and DFS rules as to mobile RFE bases. The enforcement of divergent sets of rules had created a licensing inequity as between various individual operations, depending on the agency conducting oversight. The proposed rule eliminates these inconsistencies and standardizes the requirements for those bases.

Finally, the rule renumbers and consolidates many provisions in the Wisconsin Food Code so as to enable greater ease of use and to allow for the intercalation of provisions pertaining to micro-markets and vending machines. The Department has also revised the criteria for setting licensing fees, shifting from basing fees on income and sales volume to a model based primarily on risk and complexity.

Other clarifications, changes, and additions include the following:

- Language and terminology are standardized and clarified between the two merged programs.
- The definitions section is expanded to facilitate understanding of the merged language and the new programs.
- The Wisconsin Food Code is rearranged to help clarify its contents and applications. It is also expanded to stay current with recent federal and state initiatives.

Fiscal Impact

This rule is not anticipated to have a fiscal effect on state resources. It does not require additional staff specifically to enforce the proposed rule. The Department will train staff on the new requirements.

Business Impact

The Small Business Regulatory Review Board did not issue a report on this rule. The rule should not have a major economic effect on retail food establishments since it mainly replaces and updates current rules.

For those retail food establishments requiring a licensed base, already-licensed mobile retail food establishments serving meals will see no change in requirements because their bases were licensed under the DHS rules that were transferred to the Department. Mobile retail food establishments that operate at special events or at temporary events will not need a licensed base, just as mobile retail food establishments serving meals operating at temporary events (such as farmers' markets) currently do not need a licensed base.

For those operators with a base serving mobile retail food establishments that only sell non-perishable packaged foods, the effect will also be minimal. The only operators who may face increased regulatory requirements, and the associated expenses to meet them, are those operators who are also doing complex processing and preparation of potentially hazardous food. Some activities performed in those settings must also be done under the HACCP system, such as fish processing that would require implementation of a Seafood HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR part 123, as cited in s. ATCP 70.44), juice processing that would require implementation of a Juice HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR part 120, as cited in s. ATCP 70.60), or the processing and/or repacking of marine shellfish that would require compliance with the HACCP-based Marine Shellfish Program (found in s. ATCP 70.50).

The proposed rule modifies the criteria for assigning license fees. For purposes of pragmatism, the rule tethers the cost of a given license to the complexity and risk of the food safety hazards associated with the particular activity, and not solely to the size of the RFE and the dollar volume of sales. In many cases, larger RFEs that may have been paying a higher license fee because of their sales volumes will now pay lower fees if their processing is not complex or high-risk. The Department's analyses suggest that the overall change in total license fee revenue will be negligible. The proposed licensing fee criteria more fairly reflect the time and personnel costs to the Department for inspections, as the inspection process itself is risk-based.

The elimination of the exemption from the requirement to obtain an RFE license, in order to conduct retail sales of meat or poultry products that do not bear an inspection legend, should not pose a major fiscal impact on meat establishments operating under state or federal meat inspection programs. Both meat inspection programs require all inspected products to be produced under HACCP. HACCP plans for cured or shelf-stable products, developed in compliance with state or federal meat inspection requirements, will meet requirements in the revised rule applicable to such products made only under an RFE license.

No comments were received during the economic impact comment period held August 8, 2017 - September 7, 2017. However, feedback on the rule was solicited from members of the Food Safety Advisory Council (FSAC), a group comprised of business and local health department agent representatives. Additionally, the Department convened a working group that supplied guidance concerning the appropriate scope of “wholesale” and “retail” activities and advised on the utility of written recall plans.

Environmental Impact

This rule will have essentially no environmental impact.

Federal and Surrounding State Programs

The FDA does not directly regulate retail food safety, and thus, it does not have a retail inspection or regulation program. The FDA promulgates the Model Food Code which is presented as a guide that is generally used in formulating state regulations or directly adopted by state programs.

This rule is generally consistent with rules in neighboring states. Surrounding states have all adopted various versions of the FDA Model Food Code. The criteria for retail food establishment license fees differ somewhat from those in surrounding states, in the emphasis placed on complexity and risk of food safety hazards.

- Retail food establishments in Illinois are licensed at the county or municipal level. Cook County does not have a separate category for mobile retail food establishment bases. Licensing fees for retail food establishments are based on whether the establishment has seats for customers and if not, the total area occupied by the business. Chicago differentiates licenses for mobile food dispensers and mobile food preparers.
- Minnesota has different license categories for mobile and stationary retail food businesses, with the fee based on sales volume. There is no separate Minnesota license category for mobile retail food establishment bases. Retail food establishments (not restaurants) in Minnesota are primarily regulated by the Department of Agriculture. Minnesota restaurants are primarily regulated by county or municipal agencies. Hennepin County, for example, sets license fees based on menu breadth, degree of hazard of menu items, and size of operation, with separate categories for mobile and itinerant businesses.
- Iowa has a separate license category for a commissary serving a mobile retail food establishment. The retail food establishment category in Iowa includes restaurants.

- Michigan includes restaurants as a type of retail food establishment and has separate categories for mobile and mobile commissary operations.

Changes from the Hearing Draft

The Department incorporated all technical corrections suggested by the Legislative Council Rules Clearinghouse. Changes based on the public hearings and comments sent to the Department are listed in Appendix A. As discussed above, the Department also made changes based on industry feedback and incorporated the recommendations of a work group.

Next Steps

If the Board approves this final draft rule, the Department will submit the final draft rule to the Governor for his written approval. If the Governor approves the final rule, the Department will then submit the rule to the Legislature for legislative committee review. If the Legislature has no objection to the rule, the Department Secretary will sign the final rulemaking order and transmit it for publication. The rule will take effect on the first day of the month following publication.

Summary of Public Comments

The number(s) following each comment corresponds to the number assigned to the individual listed in the Public Hearing Attendees and Commenters section of this document.

Rule Provision	Public Comment	Department Response
General	Stronger oversight of Agent programs and oversight of Agent program fee structures. Greater oversight over direct and indirect costs used to justify license fees and greater oversight with respect to FDA national voluntary retail food standards. (3), (9), (28)	The Department supports the concept of greater oversight to promote greater consistency and is taking steps to provide this consistency through a revised Agent contract and redesigned Agent evaluation protocols. Greater emphasis has been placed on Agents' budgets relating to the retail food and recreation program activities and acceptable direct and indirect costs. With respect to the setting of license fees, this authority is not under the purview of ATCP 75, but is statutory under ch. 97, Stats. The national retail food standards are voluntary and administered by the FDA. While the Department is also enrolled in these standards and encourages Agents to participate, the Department has no direct authority over the retail standards program and who chooses to participate.
General	Provide consistency across all jurisdictions relating to inspection report communication. Industry does not support grading or scoring as a method for inspection report communication and asks the department to disallow grading and promote a uniform online portal for viewing individual inspection reports. (3), (9), (28)	The Department agrees with the need for consistency; the possibility of 55+ Agent programs each with its own grading and scoring system would ultimately lead to chaos and confusion in the public's understanding of inspection findings. The Department suggests that an online posting of inspection findings provides the most realistic and helpful assessment of actual conditions in an individual retail food establishment and proposes to include changes under ATCP 75.20 (7). This allows the consumer to make an informed choice anywhere in the State based on uniform standards for inspection reports and actual food safety violations. The Department added the following: ATCP 75.20 (7) POSTING OF INSPECTION REPORTS. (a) Inspection reports shall be available to the public through a web-based portal. (b) The department or its agents may not apply grades or scores to retail food establishments based on inspection reports or other criteria.
General	Allow agent health departments to maintain a scoring or grading system for inspection report communication. (14), (24)	The Department suggests no change based on the need for consistency. The possibility of 55+ Agent programs each with its own grading and scoring system would ultimately lead to chaos and confusion in the public's understanding of inspection findings. The Department suggests that an online posting of inspection findings provides the most realistic and helpful assessment of actual conditions in an individual retail food establishment and proposes to include changes under ATCP 75.20 (7). This allows the consumer to make an informed choice anywhere in the State based on uniform standards for inspection reports and actual food safety violations.

Rule Provision	Public Comment	Department Response
General	Please reconsider the use of 501(c) (3) to define organizations that are exempt from licensure. Suggest removing the (3) to include a broader number of non-profit organizations. (4), (5), (10)	The Department agrees that this suggestion has merit and has replaced 501(c) (3) with 501(c) where it occurs in rule.
General	Interns should be able to perform retail food inspection work. (12)	This comment is outside the scope of this revision. This comment relates to Agent requirements under contract with the department for inspectors to be eligible to obtain a Registered Sanitarian (RS) credential at the time of hire and obtain their RS certification within 5 years (ATCP 74). These requirements are not addressed under the ATCP 75 rule, which simply refers to ATCP 74.
General	Add a licensing category for large operations such as Lambeau Field. (22)	Under this rule revision, license fees are mainly based on risk, and less on the size of the operation. The rule adequately addresses licensing based on risk categorization as described by the commenter. The Department encourages the commenter to contact the department to discuss their current mode of licensing these facility types. The Department recommends no change.
General	How is DATCP going to address local health department staff that encounter issues dealing with wholesaling, recall, and food production plan requirements. (23)	This statement is outside the scope of revision to ATCP 75. The Department suggests that the submitter contact the department to discuss their concerns. The Department recommends no change.
General	Need to evaluate facilities requiring a retail food establishment license at a meat plant. Who will evaluate, who will notify. (23)	This is beyond the scope of ATCP 75. Establishments are responsible to apply for necessary licenses. The Department will provide training and information to help assess business needs. These issues will be addressed during the rule implementation.
General	Reinspection fees should be based on the amount of time spent by the agent doing the reinspection, and license fees should be capped for agents of the department from exceeding 250% of DATCP fees. Language should be included that defines what "reasonable costs" are related to agent fee schedules. (28)	These fee structures are not a part of the scope of this rule revision. The commenter also refers to fees charged by local agents, which is also beyond the department's scope. Chapter 97, Stats., gives authority to agent health departments to set their own reasonable fees for the licensing, inspection, training and enforcement of retail food establishments. The Department will be addressing licensing and other fees in the future with industry and a separate scope statement and rule revision will occur at that time. Because "reasonable costs" is a statutory term, the Department will need to seek a legal interpretation regarding what are acceptable "direct" and "indirect" costs associated with licensing and inspection. These interpretations will be formulated into language in the agent contracts with the department.
ATCP 75.04	Remove the definition for "Community or social event". This term is not used throughout ATCP 75. (5), (10), (14), (15), (20), (25), (26), (27), (30), (31)	The Department agrees. This was an oversight and the definition was removed.
ATCP 75.04 (10)	Suggest adding a phrase, "purchased by the individual hiring the culinary service, served with dishware and utensils provided by the contractor" referring to the definition of a "contract cook." (10)	The Department agrees that "food shall be provided by the contractor" adds clarity to the definition, but "served with dishware and utensils" is not reasonable, since many contract cooks may utilize specific utensil or serving ware that facilitates their specialty. The Department proposes the following language for ATCP 75.04(10):

Rule Provision	Public Comment	Department Response
		“Contract cook” is a person who is under contract to only prepare food onsite, with food provided by the contractor, for a private occasion to the contractor or the contractor’s guests.
ATCP 75.04 (14)	The term “extensively remodeled” should be modified to indicate after the word “cosmetic refurbishing,” add the phrase “replacing like equipment” (10)	The Department agrees and modified the definition at ATCP 75.04 (14): “Extensively remodeled” means the condition of an existing retail food establishment that has undergone reconstruction or repair that altered the design or operation of the food service area, beyond redecorating, cosmetic refurbishing, replacing like equipment, or altering seating design or capacity.
ATCP 75.04 (20)	Remove the definition for “Locally sponsored sporting event”. No requirements to ensure food safety are provided. (5), (18), (26), (27), (30), (31)	This is a statutory definition that adds clarity to a group exempt from licensing under ATCP 75.06. No change can be made.
ATCP 75.04 (21)	Request that the agency provide additional interpretation and clarity around food sampling activities that are exempted from licensure. (5), (18), (26), (27), (30), (31)	The Department agrees and suggests the following language in ATCP 75.04 (21): “Meal” does not include single-bite sized free food samples or an equivalent portion given away to demonstrate the characteristics of the food.
ATCP 75.04 (21)	In the term “meal” remove the phrase “ordered and” from the definition. (10)	A meal can be obtained in different ways. The Department suggests the following clarification in ATCP 75.04 (21): “Meal” means food that is ordered, prepared for, or served to a customer with or without a beverage and is obtained from the establishment in a ready-to-eat form with the expectation of immediate consumption, although consumption may occur at another location.
ATCP 75.04 (24)	The term “mobile restaurant” should be changed to “mobile retail food establishment” (10)	The Department agrees, and the terms have been defined to reflect this change in ATCP 75.04.
ATCP 75.04 (25) & (26)	Under the definition of a “mobile retail food establishment not serving meals” and “serving meals,” the reference for a “transient food establishment” is incorrect. (10)	The Department agrees, and the reference has been changed in ATCP 75.04 (26).
ATCP 75.04 (28)	Remove any reference to the term “occasional” and require all entities that provide food to the general public to demonstrate general food safety principles. (5), (18), (20), (26), (27), (30), (31)	The Department does not have the ability to remove the term “occasional” as this is a term used in state statute. The term “occasional” is used in statute to empower certain specified groups to operate exempt from licensure. If a group is exempt from licensure, the Department has no regulatory authority, except that granted by ch. 97.12, Wis. Stats., to place restrictions on that group. The Department recommends no change.
ATCP 75.04 (28)	Change the definition of “occasional” to mean not more than 3-days during any licensing year from the currently proposed 12 days, or allow 12 days if they register with the regulatory authority, or remove the 12-day exemption entirely. (1), (5), (6), (7), (11), (13), (14), (15), (20), (25), (26), (27), (29), (30), (31)	The Department agrees to modify the proposed language to the existing code language with the following modifications made for clarity. This maintains the current exemptions that previously existed in two rules (DHS 196 and DATCP 75): “Occasional” means not more than 12 days for non-meal food sales and not more than 3 days for meal food sales during any licensing year.

Rule Provision	Public Comment	Department Response
ATCP 75.04 (28)	Change to the term "occasional" to 12 days (21)	The Department appreciates the support and proposes the following changes in response to this and the previous comment. "Occasional" means not more than 12 days for non-meal food sales and not more than 3 days for meal food sales during any licensing year.
ATCP 75.04 (31)	Recommendation for the definition of "potluck" to retain (a) and (b) of the definition and remove (c) and replace with "the event shall not be advertised to the general public." (5), (14), (15), (25), (26), (27), (30), (31)	The Department does not have the ability to change the definition of "potluck" as this is a term used in state statute.
ATCP 75.04 (34)	In the definition "retail food establishment" change the wording "time and temperature" to "time or temperature"	Time and temperatures are both important and consistent with food safety and serve in conjunction with each other. The Department recommends no change.
ATCP 75.04 (35) (a)	Update the list of foods that are exempt from licensing at taverns. This is an antiquated list of foods. (21)	The Department agrees but does not have the ability to change the definition as this is a term used in state statute.
ATCP 75.04 (35) (g)	Remove the exemption for a concession stand at a locally sponsored sporting event. (21), (26), (27), (30), (31)	This is a statutory definition and exemption. The Department has no authority to change or modify statutory provisions.
ATCP 75.04 (39)	Modify the definition of "transient retail food establishment" by removing the description of those things that constitute special event or celebration and adding the words "sells or serves food for" and create a new definition for "special event" (2), (5), (8), (13), (14), (15), (18), (20), (23), (25), (26), (27), (30), (31)	The Department agrees with the suggestion. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Under 75.04 (39) the department proposes the following: "Transient retail food establishment" means a temporary retail food establishment that operates at a fixed location in conjunction with a special event and sells or serves food for a period of no more than 14 consecutive days or in conjunction with an occasional sales promotion. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Create new ATCP 75.04 (37) "Special event" means (a) A department-recognized event that is sponsored, planned, organized, and publicly advertised by organizations that include the following: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. ATCP 75.04 (43)	In the definition of the term "wholesale" the word "sale" in the first line should be replaced with the word "transfer" (10)	The Department agrees and suggests the following for clarity and consistency with ATCP 70: (43) "Wholesale" means the transfer of any food to a person or commercial entity who will either re-sell it, distribute it, or use it as an ingredient in a product that will be then offered for sale or distribution. Wholesale also means the transfer of food from the point of production to another location for sale even if the other location is adjacent to the point of production.
ATCP 75.04 (43) and 75.065	Remove the requirement that licensees operating under the wholesale exemption for retail food establishments comply with juice HACCP 21 CFR 120. This would allow the wholesaling of juice under the retail exemption without following juice HACCP. (28), (33)	This suggestion would create an unequal playing field between food processing plant and retail food establishment operations. The requirements for juice HACCP are directly related to food safety concerns. Any food processing plant wholesaling juice is required to meet juice HACCP. The Department recommends no change.
ATCP 75.063 (2) & (3)	For clarity, the exemption for food processing plants and dairy plants should apply only to retail food establishment non-meal activities. (10)	The Department agrees and suggests the following changes: ATCP 75.063 (2) (d) The operator of the food processing plant is not engaged in the activity of a retail food establishment – serving meals. ATCP 75.063 (3) (c) The operator of the dairy plant is not engaged in the activity of a retail food establishment – serving meals.

The requirements for each of these are specified in the rule. The Department recommends no change.
ATCP 75.065 (1) (c)	Add the phrase "or transient" to the section for retail food establishment license exemption for food processing plants. (10)	The Department agrees and inserted the phrase in ATCP 75.065 (1) (c).

ATCP 75.075	Require plan review for all retail food establishments by the department or its Agents. (1), (5), (6), (7), (11), (13), (14), (15), (18), (19), (20), (21), (25), (26), (27), (29), (30), (31)	The Department agrees for consistency that all new or extensively remodeled retail food establishments should have plan reviews performed before operation. Due to the low volume of new retail food establishments–non meals, this should have a low impact on the department and its Agents. The Department modified section ATCP 75.075(1).
ATCP 75.08 (1) (a) 1.	In ATCP 75.08 (1) (a) 1., include in the exceptions section vending machines and micro markets. (10)	The Department agrees, and the changes have been incorporated into that section of the rule.
ATCP 75.08 (1) (b) Table A	Remove time as a public health control as a determining factor for license category. “It is much simpler to monitor a clock than it is to utilize a food thermometer to ensure foods are being maintained at proper temperatures.” (6), (7)	This is considered a process that must have a written plan and detailed logs in order to control potential risk. In order to correctly and adequately use time as a public health control, both time and temperature must be monitored and recorded. The Department recommends no change.
ATCP 75.08 (1) (b) Table A	Remove the words “or service” from the risk assessment table from the following section. “Retail food establishment has one or more additional areas where food preparation or service activities occur.” (10)	The Department agrees and modified that section as suggested.
ATCP 75.08 (1) (b) Table A	Suggest making change to Table A with “Food is served or sold that requires food processing activities such as, but not limited to, chopping, dicing, mixing, slicing, blanching, boiling, cooking, packaging and assembly, in order for that product to be served or sold .” (16)	The Department agrees that these additions provide clarity and has made the changes to Table A.
ATCP 75.08 (2) Table B	Add a new category titled “ Transient retail food establishment- non processing” (10)	Without further clarification, the Department concludes that this is covered by the separation of transient license categories into TCS and Non-TCS foods. The Department recommends no change.
ATCP 75.20 (4) (b) 2.	Remove the section that requires an inspection report to provide the operator with the specific code reference to the violation noted. (34)	Industry demands and expects to be provided with detailed and accurate inspection reports that indicate the actual violation in rule. This also provides an educational component to industry, helping them understand the specific requirements for their retail food operation. Accurate and complete citations reinforce the knowledge base of our staff and add credibility to the inspection report. The Department recommends no change.
ATCP 75.20 (5)	Change from 2 business days to 5 business days for the time required to issue the inspection report. (21)	Licenses should receive a copy of the inspection report immediately after the inspection or shortly thereafter; two business days is adequate time to provide operators a copy of their inspection report. The Department recommends no change.
ATCP 75 Appendix 1-104.11 and 9-103.11 (D)	Allow variances to be approved by the local regulatory authority instead of the department. (1), (18)	To achieve greater consistency, variances must only be granted by one agency. Industry has expressed a strong desire that the State promote uniformity amongst all retail food establishments. Proposed language indicates that Agents must review all variances and provide comment before submission to the department for approval. The Department recommends no change.

Rule Provision	Public Comment	Department Response
ATCP 75 Appendix 1-105.12	Requiring businesses to submit HACCP plans and variances to the local regulatory authority is burdensome and the State should approve all plans. (3)	The Department agrees and no change to the rule is necessary. All applications for HACCP Plans and variances are sent to the local regulatory authority for review for completeness, but then the documents are forwarded to the Department for final review and approval. The Department approves all variances and HACCP Plans.
ATCP 75 Appendix 1-105.12 and 1-106.13	Request that all variances be sent directly to the department for approval or for variance requests that are for multiple locations in multiple jurisdictions using the same process. (28), (32)	The Department agrees in theory regarding multiple jurisdictions, but implementation is problematic. For example, there is no provision for dealing with individual failure - the department would have no option but to void the approval for the entire chain. Currently, the Department can approve or void individual variances based on performance without it affecting the entire chain. The department is willing to work with industry on specific examples, but this must occur on a case by case basis. The Department recommends no change. The Department disagrees with the statement that all variances be sent directly to the Department and bypass the local regulatory authority. The Department ultimately does the final approval on all variances but relies on agent health departments (who are the licensees' main contact) to provide relevant information regarding the individual operations in their jurisdiction. This aids the Department in making the determination whether approval is granted on the specific variance request. The Department recommends no change.
ATCP 75 Appendix 1-201.10 (b)	Revert to the previous definition regarding "packaging in sub (2)" with the following language: "Packaged" does not include a wrapper, carry-out box, or other nondurable container used to containerize FOOD with the purpose of facilitating FOOD protection during service and receipt of the FOOD by the CONSUMER. (28), (33)	The Department agrees, but this is in direct conflict with the 2013 FDA Model Food Code and interpretation provided to the State by FDA regarding "packaging." The Department recommends no change at this time but is working with industry to present this change at the National Conference for Food Protection to petition FDA to change this in the Model Food Code.
ATCP 75 Appendix 3-201.16	Make additions to the wild mushroom section that dictates what conditions must be satisfied to be approved for the sale of wild mushroom species. (31)	The language used in the rule is specific to the 2013 FDA Model Food Code. Over 5000 species of mushrooms grow naturally in North America. The vast majority have never been tested for toxicity. It would be a monumental task to try and cover this in the Wisconsin Food Code. FDA simplified the language to allow states the ability to approve the sale of wild mushrooms based on local availability. The Conference for Food Protection provides a model guidance for wild harvested mushrooms for states and local jurisdictions to utilize for approving these operations. The Department recommends no change.
ATCP 75 Appendix 3-203.11 (C) (1)	This reference should be changed to state that the labeling information is retained for 90-days as in section 3-203.11 (D) (3). We do not believe there should be a difference in the requirements of 3-203.11 (C) and (D), just because of how the product is dispensed. (6)	One instance in the Appendix refers to a display container while the other instance refers to repacking of product, and this is in conformance with the 2013 FDA Model Food Code. The Department recommends no change.

Rule Provision	Public Comment	Department Response
ATCP 75 Appendix 3-304.17 (C) (3)	Request removal of 3-304.17 (C) (3) requiring dispensing equipment to be provided with hot water as part of the dispensing system. (28), (33)	The Department agrees and removed the requested citation.
ATCP 75 Appendix 3-305.14	Include specific language that hand wash sinks may not be used for food preparation. (1)	This issue is adequately addressed under 2-301.15 in ATCP 75 Appendix. The Department recommends no change.
ATCP 75 Appendix 4-602.11 (A) (6)	Remove the section relating to allergens. This is not part of the FDA Model Food Code and it will be hard to measure the effectiveness of allergen removal. (3), (28), (32), (33)	The Department agrees that this is not the correct location and removed that language from 4-602.11 and included language in 1-201.10 definition of "easily cleanable" to state that equipment shall be designed to allow the removal of allergens.
ATCP 75 Appendix 12-101.11	Remove the exemption to have a certified food manager for transient food establishment operators. These operations should be required to have a certified food manager. (18), (25)	Because of the transitory nature of these food events, the burden of obtaining a certified food manger would hamper the ability of many temporary event operators to participate in transient food events. The Department proposes for future consideration the possibility of a requirement for basic food safety training to all food employees. The Department recommends no change at this time.
ATCP 75 Appendix 12-101.11 (B)	Recommend adding simple retail food establishment – not serving meals with the final product not TCS be added to exemptions for food manager certification. (11)	This category involves potential processing of TCS foods during manufacture. Even though the final product may be non-TCS, basic food safety knowledge must be demonstrated. The Department recommends no change.
ATCP 75 Appendix 12-201.11	Recommend that retail food establishments with complex food operations be required to have a certified food manager on site at all hours during which food is being served to the public. (31)	This is not consistent with ch. 97, Stats., requirements for certified food managers or with 2013 FDA Model Food Code. The Department recommends no change.

The proposed rule modifies Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATPC 75 by incorporating significant rule provisions of repealed Wis. Admin. Code ch. DHS 196 (Restaurants) and repealing provisions of Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATPC 75 dealing with agent programs. Agent program rules are now found in Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATPC 74 (Local Agents and Regulation), which also incorporates provisions from the repealed Wis. Admin. Code ch. DHS 192.

The transfer of DHS' FSRLS to DATCP's Division of Food Safety necessitated the merger of two food safety regulatory systems. One regulatory paradox was particularly in need of resolution: Restaurant operators could not wholesale food under the DHS rules, while RFE operators under DATCP's authority could engage in a limited amount of wholesaling without holding a food processing plant license. By statute, the Department now licenses restaurants as RFEs and, therefore restaurants enjoy the same limited ability to wholesale food. The Department undertook the present rulemaking process and by January of 2018 had developed a draft rule that for the first time included definitions of "wholesale" and "retail". The Department initially proposed to retain certain limitations and requirements derived from Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATPC 70 (Food Processing Plants) addressed to food processing activities for wholesale conducted by an RFE. The Department presented a final draft reflecting that framework to the Board of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection ("Board") in January 2018. Although the Board approved the draft, it became apparent in the aftermath of the Board meeting that industry participants felt that less restrictive limits and definitions would still adequately protect public health.

In light of this feedback, the Department opted to convene a work group comprised of industry and local health department agent program representatives to further revise the rule. In the course of its deliberations, the work group concluded that the safety of many food processing activities for wholesale, when performed by RFEs, could be ensured by compliance with Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATPC 75 and the ATPC 75 Appendix, and thus no further recourse to the strictures of Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATPC 70 was needful. The work group recognized that additional training would be necessary for local health department agent personnel, as well as Department sanitarians, who are assigned to inspect RFEs performing these food processing activities for wholesale. The Department, as part of its ongoing mission to train thoroughly food safety personnel at the state and local level, is committed to providing the necessary training.

The work group extensively discussed the question of whether an RFE that conducts food processing activities for wholesale, yet that is exempt from having to hold a food processing plant license, should be required to develop a written recall plan (as required by Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATPC 70). Dairy plants and food processing plants are required to develop written recall plans, but the work group reached a consensus that this requirement was poorly suited to and likely ineffective for businesses predominantly engaged in retail activities. As a result, the revised rule provides that RFEs bear responsibility for notifying their wholesale customers of any adulterated or misbranded products that the RFE may have sold to them, as deemed appropriate for the protection of public health. The RFE operator is to choose the notification mechanism.

PROPOSED ORDER OF THE WISCONSIN DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE,
TRADE AND CONSUMER PROTECTION ADOPTING RULES

1 The Wisconsin department of agriculture, trade and consumer protection hereby proposes the 2 following rule to repeal and recreate ch. ATCP 75 relating to retail food establishments, and to
3 repeal and recreate ch. ATCP 75, Appendix, Wisconsin Food Code, also relating to retail food
4 establishments and affecting small business.

Analysis Prepared by the Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection

The Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (“Department” or “DATCP”) proposes to repeal and recreate Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 (Retail Food Establishments, or “RFEs”) and Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75, Appendix (Wisconsin Food Code). This rule revision is necessary because the current rule reflects regulations derived from a federal Food and Drug Administration (FDA) model food code dating from 2009. This rule will bring Wisconsin regulatory requirements into substantial accord with the more recent 2013 Model Food Code issued by the FDA.

The Department typically updates the Wisconsin Food Code every four years without revising Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75, but with the present revision, the Department is also updating Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 itself, due to the July 2016 merger of the Department’s Division of Food Safety with the Department of Health Service (DHS) Food Safety and Recreational Licensing Section (FSRLS) and the resulting creation of the Division of Food and Recreational Safety (DFRS) within DATCP. The merger of the two former entities necessitated a merger of the rules appertaining to FSRLS and DFS respectively, including the rules affecting RFEs. The present rule merges, clarifies, and updates the rules regulating all RFEs, both meal-serving establishments (restaurants) and non-meal serving enterprises.

Statutes Interpreted

- Wis. Stat. § 97.30, “Retail food establishments.”
- Wis. Stat. § 97.29, “Food processing plants.”
- Wis. Stat. § 97.42, “Compulsory inspection of livestock or poultry, and meat or poultry products.”
- Wis. Stat. § 97.605, “Lodging and vending licenses.”

- Wis. Stat. § 97.61, “Vending machine commissary outside the state.”

Statutory Authority

Statutory Authority: Wis. Stat. §§ 93.07 (1), 97.09 (4), 97.30 (5).

Explanation of Statutory Authority

The Department has broad general authority, pursuant to Wis. Stat. § 93.07 (1), to adopt rules to implement programs under its jurisdiction. The Department also has general authority, pursuant to Wis. Stat. § 97.09 (4), to adopt rules specifying standards to protect the public from the sale of adulterated or misbranded foods. The Department has specific authority, pursuant to Wis. Stat. § 97.30 (5), to adopt rules for RFEs concerning fees; to set facility construction and maintenance standards; and to set rules for the design, installation, maintenance, and cleaning of equipment and utensils; personnel sanitation; food handling, display, and storage; and food sources and food labeling.

Related Statutes and Rules

Since the merger with DHS’s FSRLS in July of 2016, the Department has almost total regulatory responsibility for post-harvest food, pursuant to Wis. Stat. ch. 97 and inter-related administrative rules that strive for consistency with federal laws, regulations, and guidance. Relevant administrative rules cover retail food establishments (ATCP 75 and its Appendix), food processing plants (ATCP 70), dairy plants and farms (ATCP 65), and food warehouses (ATCP 71), as well as meat and poultry inspection and processing (ATCP 55). With the proposed rule revision, the Department rule will largely mirror the 2013 FDA Model Food Code, as well as FDA Model Food Code updates accepted by the FDA since 2013.

Plain Language Analysis

The rule updates Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 by incorporating significant rule provisions in the now-repealed Wis. Admin. Code ch. DHS 196 (Restaurants) and by repealing rules in Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 concerning agent programs. Agent program rules are currently found in Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 74 (Local Agents and Regulation), which also incorporates provisions from the repealed Wis. Admin. Code ch. DHS 192.

The transfer of DHS’ FSRLS to DATCP’s Division of Food Safety necessitated the merger of two food safety regulatory systems. One regulatory paradox was particularly in need of resolution: Restaurant operators could not wholesale food under the DHS rules, while RFE operators under DATCP’s authority could engage in a limited amount of wholesaling without holding a food processing plant license. By statute, the Department now licenses restaurants as RFEs, and therefore, restaurants enjoy the same limited ability to wholesale food. The Department undertook the present rule-making process and by January of 2018 had developed a draft rule that for the first time included definitions of “wholesale” and “retail”. The Department initially proposed to retain certain limitations and requirements derived from Wis.

Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70 (Food Processing Plants) addressed to food processing activities for wholesale conducted by an RFE. The Department presented a final draft reflecting that framework to the Board of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection (“Board”) in January 2018. Although the Board approved the draft, it became apparent in the aftermath of the Board meeting that industry participants felt that less restrictive limits and definitions would still adequately protect public health.

In light of this feedback, the Department opted to form a work group comprised of industry and local health department agent program representatives to further revise the rule. During deliberations, the work group determined that the safety of many food processing activities for wholesale, when done by RFEs, could be ensured by compliance with ATCP 75 and the ATCP 75 Appendix, and thus, no additional application of ATCP 70 requirements was necessary. The work group recognized that additional training would be necessary for local health department agent personnel, along with Department sanitarians, assigned to inspect RFEs performing these food processing activities for wholesale. The Department, as part of its ongoing work to train thoroughly food safety personnel at the state and local level, is committed to providing the necessary training.

The work group extensively discussed whether an RFE conducting food processing activities for wholesale, yet exempt from having to hold a food processing plant license, should be required to develop a written recall plan (as required in ATCP 70). Dairy plants and food processing plants must develop a written recall plan, but the work group reached consensus that this requirement was poorly suited and likely ineffective for businesses predominantly engaged in retail activities. As a result, the revised rule states that RFEs are responsible for notifying their wholesale customers of any adulterated or misbranded products that the RFE may have sold to them, as deemed appropriate for the protection of public health. The RFE operator will choose the notification mechanism.

The work group’s efforts culminated in the newly revised final draft of ATCP 75, which does all of the following: a) re-defines “wholesale” and “retail”, b) clarifies the exemption for RFEs from the requirement to hold a food processing plant license when conducting limited (not more than 25% of gross annual food sales) food processing activities for wholesale, and c) re-draws boundaries on what types of food processing activities for wholesale are allowed. Perhaps the most important change in the wholesale and retail definitions is that the Department will no longer regard the transfer of food between two RFEs or food processing plants as wholesaling, so long as the same license holder operates the two businesses involved and the licensee transferring the food does not relinquish control of the food. This change reflects current guidance by the FDA and follows the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) interpretations related to differentiating “retail” from “wholesale” transactions involving meat and poultry products.

The revised definitions for “wholesale” and “retail” reflect industry practice and the de facto usage of these terms in the marketplace, as well as the FDA’s interpretation and sanction of current industry practice. The new definitions also appear in the pending revision to Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70 (Food Processing Plants). The revised rule does continue to prohibit RFEs from processing canned low-acid or acidified foods for wholesale without holding a food processing plant license and complying with the requirements stated in Wis. Admin. Code ch.

ATCP 70. The aim of the update definitions is to promote clarity and uniformity and ideally to facilitate enhanced business opportunities for industry participants.

RFEs operate under a wide range of business models, ranging from traditional restaurants, bakeries, and markets where all sales are made directly to consumers, on the one hand, to larger operations performing varying degrees of processing and wholesaling, on the other hand. The revisions to the rule take cognizance of a recently introduced business model in which a licensed RFE transports prepared food and conducts sales of individual meals directly to a workplace's employees or guests of employees, for a limited number of days each week. Within boundaries delineated in the rule, an additional RFE license is not required for the workplace meal sales. The work group reviewed and approved this revision.

Some RFEs perform food processing for wholesale activities, which are regulated at the federal level by the FDA. This rule revision is calculated to ensure that these businesses do not fall outside the sweep of appropriate regulation. Wisc Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 and its Appendix specifically govern retail sales and the internal transfer of food between businesses operated by the same license-holding entity. As revised, the rule, with the addition of federal requirements for juice and seafood processing, will apply to RFEs that conduct wholesaling only to a limited extent ($\leq 25\%$ of gross annual food sales). Businesses that predominantly wholesale the food they process must effectuate enhanced food safety systems, as required by provisions in Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70.

With this rule revision, the Department has sought to eliminate duplication, clarify expectations, and, to the extent possible, avoid the need to procure multiple licenses for the same business. However, the Department justifiably weighed these objectives in the balance with safety concerns arising from gaps in regulation. Accordingly, this rule proposes that any business holding either a meat establishment license issued by the Department, or a grant of meat / poultry inspection from the federal government, must also obtain an RFE license if the business manufactures for retail sale any meat or poultry products that are never produced under meat inspection and never bear an inspection legend. Prior to this rule revision, meat establishments were allowed to retail up to 25% of total meat sales without holding an RFE license because of the frequent state or federal inspection of meat processing overall. However, it was adjudged during recent discussions that the available meat inspection resources are insufficient to adequately oversee meat and poultry products sold at retail without the state or federal mark of inspection and other safeguards attendant upon RFE status. Federal meat inspection staff are explicitly directed not to inspect retail meat and food operations. The rule revision eliminates the above-described exemption from the requirement to hold an RFE license. Expectations will thus be identical to those for businesses already licensed as RFEs to produce meat and poultry products only for retail sale.

The rule also defines and clarifies the rules for micro-markets, vending machines, and the vending machine commissaries defined in statute as serving both of those business types. The Department will license vending machine commissaries as food processing plants, which reflects the operations of these commissaries. In addition, the Department defines micro-markets so as to acknowledge that the latter typically operate without a human on the premises at all times to oversee operations, which is a requirement for other types of RFEs.

The revised Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 Appendix, Wisconsin Food Code, provides greater clarification regarding variances and Hazard Analysis Critical Control Point (“HACCP”) plans, including the procedure for variance applications. New language also simplifies the protocols that establishments must follow when performing vacuum packing and sous-vide processing.

A significant change in the Wisconsin Food Code pertains to cheese curds. The Department based the revised language on a recent study of the likelihood of pathogenic bacterial growth on cheese curds. The study validates the current 24-hour-at-room-temperature limit for display of cheese curds processed under Cheddar cheese-making conditions. This scientific support of storage requirements for cheese curds allows the Department to meet Standard 1 of the FDA’s Voluntary National Retail Food Regulatory Standards Program by providing validation for any protocols that differ substantively from the FDA Model Food Code.

In response to industry comments, the Department added requirements for rendering recent inspection results available to the public, along with a prohibition against any grading or scoring of RFEs based on inspection reports or other criteria. The intent of these provisions is to avoid problems arising in the event that different jurisdictions utilize discrepant grading or scoring systems or some jurisdictions employed a grading system while others did not. The Department believes that actual inspection reports will tend to be more informative than grades or scores and will allow consumers to draw their own conclusions about the merits of a given RFE.

This revised rule also harmonizes the different requirements that previously existed across DHS and DFS rules as to mobile RFE bases. The enforcement of divergent sets of rules had created a licensing inequity as between various individual operations, depending on the agency conducting oversight. The proposed rule eliminates these inconsistencies and standardizes the requirements for those bases.

Finally, the rule renumbers and consolidates many provisions in the Wisconsin Food Code so as to enable greater ease of use and to allow for the intercalation of provisions pertaining to micro-markets and vending machines. The Department has also revised the criteria for setting licensing fees, shifting from basing fees on income and sales volume to a model based primarily on risk and complexity.

Federal and Surrounding State Programs

Federal Programs

The FDA does not directly regulate retail food safety, but it does issue the Model Food Code for direct adoption by state programs or for use as a guide used in formulating state regulations or

Surrounding State Programs

This rule is generally consistent with rules in neighboring states. The states surrounding Wisconsin have each adopted various versions of the FDA Model Food Code. Wisconsin’s criteria for calculating RFE license fees differ somewhat from those in surrounding states as to the emphasis placed on complexity and risk of food safety hazards.

- RFEs in Illinois are licensed at the county or municipal level. Cook County does not have a separate category for mobile RFE bases. Licensing fees for RFEs are based on whether the establishment has seats for customers, and if not, the total area occupied by the business. Chicago differentiates between licenses for mobile food dispensers and mobile food preparers.
- Minnesota employs different license categories for mobile and stationary retail food businesses, with fees based on sales volume. There is no separate Minnesota license category for mobile RFE bases. RFEs (other than restaurants) in Minnesota are primarily regulated by the Department of Agriculture. Minnesota restaurants are primarily regulated by county or municipal agencies. Hennepin County, for example, sets license fees based on menu breadth, degree of hazard of menu items, and size of operation, with separate categories for mobile and itinerant businesses.
- Iowa has a separate license category for a commissary serving a mobile RFE. RFEs in Iowa include restaurants.
- Michigan includes restaurants as a type of RFE and categorizes mobile operations and mobile commissary operations separately.

Data and Analytical Methodologies

The Department reviewed past changes to the FDA Model Food Code as well as pending changes based on changes adopted in recent Conference for Food Protection meetings. The Department has also reviewed Wisconsin statutes and rules for food processing plants, meat and poultry inspection, and dairy plants, as well as current industrial practices to identify areas where greater consistency can be achieved and discrepancies eliminated between the two food inspection programs existing prior to July 2016. The Department solicited feedback on the rule from members of the Food Safety Advisory Council (FSAC), a group comprised of businesspeople and local health department agent representatives. The Department tested proposed changes in criteria for license fees by applying the criteria to businesses familiar to FSAC members and by evaluating the license fee differential for each RFE in a representative county. Upon learning of industry concerns about the proposed licensing and regulatory requirements for RFEs conducting food processing for wholesale activities and/or transferring food between different businesses within a single company, a work group comprised of industry and local health department agent personnel was convened to review and revise the requirements. This work group approved the requirements in the present revised rule.

Analysis and Supporting Documents for Effect on Small Business

As noted, the Department utilized and incorporated the 2013 FDA Model Food Code where it did not conflict with the Department's compliance and enforcement programs. The Department worked to combine the duties, activities, and expectations of both DHS and DATCP in a way that eliminates duplication, clarifies expectations, and, to the extent possible, ensures that small businesses do not need multiple licenses. The Department has also revisited the criteria for licensing fees, changing from income-and-sales-volume-based fees to primarily risk-complexity-based fees. The Department tested the fiscal effect of these changes by hypothetically applying the criteria to businesses in a representative county and evaluating the license fee change to each RFE.

Effect on Small Business

The rule is not anticipated to have a major economic effect on RFEs since the rule serves mainly to replace and update current rules. Already-licensed mobile RFEs serving meals will see no change in requirements, because their bases were licensed under the DHS rules that were transferred to the Department. For operators with a base, serving mobile RFEs that only sell nonperishable packaged foods, the effect will be minimal regulatory and fee changes. The only operators who may face increased regulatory requirements and associated expenses are those operators of bases who perform complex processing and preparation of potentially hazardous food.

Certain food processing activities for wholesale performed in RFEs, in which all of these activities account for not more than 25% of gross annual food sales, must also be done under the federally-mandated HACCP system. Specifically, fish and fishery products processing must be performed under a Seafood HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR 123), and juice processing must be performed under a Juice HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR 120).

The proposed rule modifies the criteria for assigning license fees. For purposes of pragmatism, the rule tethers the cost of a given license to the complexity and risk of the food safety hazards associated with the particular activity, and not solely to the size of the RFE and the dollar volume of sales. In many cases, larger RFEs that may have been paying a higher license fee because of their sales volumes will now pay lower fees if their processing is not complex or high-risk. The Department's analyses suggest that the overall change in total license fee revenue will be negligible. The proposed licensing fee criteria more fairly reflect the time and personnel costs to the Department for inspections, as the inspection process itself is risk-based.

Eliminating the exemption from the requirement to obtain an RFE license, in order to conduct retail sales of meat or poultry products that do not bear an inspection legend, should not pose a major fiscal impact on meat establishments operating under state or federal meat inspection programs. Both meat inspection programs require all inspected products to be produced under HACCP. HACCP plans for cured or shelf-stable products, developed in compliance with state or federal meat inspection requirements, will meet requirements in the revised rule applicable to such products made only under an RFE license.

617 license fee listed in Table B, a weights and measures inspection fee under s. ATCP 92.12.

618 (3) TYPES OF FEES. (a) Pre-licensing inspection fee. The applicant shall pay to the 619 department the applicable pre-licensing inspection fee listed in Table B before a license is issued 620 to a new retail food establishment under s. ATCP 75.06.

621 (b) License fee.

622 1. Except as specified in subd. 2., the applicant shall pay an annual license fee to the 623 department, as listed in Table B, for each retail food establishment that the applicant applies for a
624 license to operate under s. ATCP 75.06. The department or its agent shall base the annual license
625 fee on the point values assigned to the retail food establishment under Table A.

626 2. Table A does not apply to a retail food establishment serving prepackaged meals or a
627 retail food establishment - not serving meals with only prepackaged foods, a transient retail food
628 establishment, a mobile retail food establishment base with no food service or processing
629 activities, a vending machine and vending machine operator, or a micro market. Fees for these 630 retail food establishments are listed separately in Table B.

631 (c) Late fee. If the license holder does not pay the fee for a license renewal before the
632 expiration date of the license, the license holder shall pay to the department the applicable late 633 fee, as indicated in Table B, in addition to the renewal license fee.

634 (d) Reinspection fee. If the department reinspects a retail food establishment because the 635 department has found a violation of ch. 97, Stats., this chapter, or its appendix during the 636 preceding inspection, the department shall charge the license holder the reinspection fee
637 specified in Table B. A reinspection fee is payable when the reinspection is completed, and is 638 due upon written demand from the department. The department may issue a demand for payment 639 when it issues a license renewal application to the license holder. If an additional reinspection is 640 required to correct violations of ch. 97, Stats., this chapter, or its Appendix, the department shall 641 assess an additional reinspection fee as listed in Table B.

642 (e) Operating without a license fee. Any license holder found to be operating a retail food
643 establishment without a license shall pay to the department the applicable fee indicated in Table
644 B for their designated license category. For any license holder found to be operating a vending 645 machine without a license, the license holder shall pay to the department 3 times the annual 646 vending machine license fee listed in Table B, in addition to all applicable fees.

647 Note: Anyone operating a retail food establishment without a license is also subject to a fine of not less than 648 $100 nor more than $1,000 under s. 97.72, Stats.

649 (f) Fees for special condition inspections. For each inspection or consultation activity that
650 is not directly related to the department's licensing responsibilities, the department may charge
651 the requestor $175.

652 (g) Fee for operating without a certified food protection manager. The department shall 653 charge the license holder $150 for operating without a certified food manager as defined in s.
654 ATCP 75.04 (7).

655 Note: Certified food manager requirements may be found in Chapter 12 of ch. ATCP 75 Appendix.

656 (3) METHOD OF PAYMENT. If the applicant or license holder pays for a retail food 660 processing charges by cashier's check or other certified draft, or money order.

661 Subchapter III – Enforcement and Appeals

662 ATCP 75.10 Enforcement. (1) INSPECTIONS AND ACCESS TO THE PREMISES.

663 (a) Inspections. Under s. 97.12 (1) Stats., for the purpose of enforcing this chapter, the 664 department and its agents may, at reasonable hours, enter and inspect any premises for which a 665 license is required under this chapter or any farm, factory, warehouse, building, room,
666 establishment or place at or in which foods are manufactured, processed, packed, packaged,
667 stored or held for sale, and may enter any vehicle, including a vehicle used to transport or hold 668 foods in commerce. The department and its agents may also secure samples or specimens,
669 including samples or specimens of food and any product or substance that may affect food,
670 examine and copy relevant documents and records, and obtain photographic and other evidence
671 needed to enforce this chapter or a rule promulgated under this chapter. The department shall 672 examine any samples secured and shall conduct other inspections and examinations needed to 673 determine whether there is a violation of this chapter. The department shall pay or offer to pay 674 the market value of samples taken.

675 (b) Reinspections. The department or its agent may reinspect a retail food establishment
676 whenever an inspection or the investigation of a complaint reveals the existence of a violation
677 that is potentially hazardous to the health and welfare of patrons or employees of the retail food
678 establishment. The time between an inspection, investigation, and a reinspection shall be

679 sufficient to allow the license holder time to correct the deficiencies. The department shall 680 charge a reinspection fee, according to Table ATCP 75.08 B or the applicable charges as 681 determined by an agent. If an additional reinspection is required because the license holder has 682 not corrected a violation, the department shall assess the license holder an additional reinspection
683 fee according to Table ATCP 75.08 B, or the applicable charges as determined by an agent. The 684 department may order the license holder to show just cause why the license should not be 685 suspended or revoked under s. ATCP 75.12.

686 (2) GENERAL ORDERS TO CORRECT VIOLATIONS. (a) If upon inspection of a retail food 687 establishment, the department or agent finds that the retail food establishment is not designed,
688 constructed, equipped or operated as required under ch. 97 Stat., ch. ATCP 75 or its Appendix,
689 the department or agent shall issue a written order to correct the violation. The order shall 690 specify the correction needed for compliance and the deadline by which the license holder shall 691 make the correction. The department or agent, at its discretion, may extend the deadline specified 692 in the order.

693 (b) If the license holder does not make the corrections to the violations by the deadline
694 stated in the order, or any extension of time granted for compliance, the department or agent may 695 issue an order under s. ATCP 75.12 to suspend or revoke the license to operate the retail food 696 establishment.

697 (c) Under s. 97.12 (5), Stats., any person who fails to comply with an order of the 698 department shall forfeit $50 for each day of noncompliance after the order is served upon or 699 directed to the person. A person may appeal a forfeiture under s. ATCP 75.14.

700 (3) HOLD ORDERS. As specified under s. 97.12 (2) Stats.:

701 (a) Whenever any duly authorized inspector of the department has reasonable cause to 702 believe that any food examined by him or her is adulterated or misbranded and is dangerous to 703 health or misleading to the injury or damage of the purchaser or consumer, the inspector shall 704 issue and deliver to the owner or custodian of the food a holding order prohibiting the sale or 705 movement of the food for any purpose until the analysis or examination of the sample obtained
706 has been completed. A holding order may be effective for a period of no longer than 14 days
707 from the time of its delivery and it may be reissued for one additional 14-day period if necessary
708 to complete the analysis or examination of the food.

709 (b) No food described in a holding order issued and delivered under par. (a) may be sold or 710 moved for any purpose without the approval of the department until such analysis or examination
711 has been completed within the time specified in par. (a). Upon completion of the analysis or 712 examination either of the following may apply:

713 1. If the department upon completed analysis or examination determines that the food
714 described in such holding order is not adulterated or misbranded, then the owner or custodian
715 thereof shall be promptly notified in writing, and such holding order shall terminate upon 716 notification.

717 2. Where the analysis or examination shows that the food is adulterated or misbranded and 718 is dangerous to health or misleading to the injury or damage of the purchaser or consumer, the 719 owner or custodian of the food shall be notified in writing within the effective time of the 720 holding order. Such notice has the effect of a special order issued under s. 93.18, Stats. Upon 721 receipt of a notice, the food subject to the holding order may not be sold, moved, disposed of or 722 brought into compliance with applicable standards without the approval of the department. If 723 such food is not brought into compliance, sold, moved, or disposed of within 30 days, or other

724 agreed upon period of time, from the date the owner or custodian received notice that the food 725 was adulterated or misbranded, the department may issue an order directing the disposition of the 726 food. Such an order has the effect of a special order issued under s. 93.18, Stats.

727 (c) Any person violating an order issued under this subsection may be fined not more than 728 the maximum amount or imprisoned not more than one year in the county jail or both. The 729 maximum fine under this paragraph equals $10,000 plus the retail value of the product moved,
730 sold, or disposed of in violation of the order issued under this subsection.

731 (4) SPECIAL ORDERS AND ORDERS TO ABATE A DANGER TO PUBLIC HEALTH. As specified
732 under s. 97.12 (3), Stats.:

733 (a) The department may issue a special order as provided under s. 93.18 Stats., to any 734 person engaged in the production, processing, sale, or distribution of food if the department
735 finds a violation of this chapter or the rules promulgated under this chapter. An order shall state 736 the violations found and shall specify a deadline for correction.

737 (b) If the department finds that a piece of equipment, a facility, or a practice used is a 738 danger to public health, it may order that the situation be abated or eliminated immediately and 739 that the equipment, facility or practice not be used until the violation is corrected and the 740 correction is confirmed by the department. The department may, instead of issuing an order, 741 accept written agreements of voluntary compliance, which have the effect of an order.

742 ATCP 75.12 Suspension or revocation of license. The department may, by summary 743 order and without prior notice or hearing, suspend a license issued under this chapter if the 744 department finds that there has been a substantial failure to comply with the applicable 745 requirements of this chapter and the rules promulgated under this chapter and that the 746 continuation of the violations constitutes a serious danger to public health. The order shall be in

747 writing, have the force and effect of an order issued under s. 93.18, Stats., and is subject to right 748 of hearing before the department, if requested within 10 days after date of service.

749 ATCP 75.14 Appeals of actions by the department; right of hearing. If requested in 750 writing within 10-days after date of the service of an order, a hearing shall be conducted within 751 10 days after receipt of a request for a hearing. Enforcement of the order shall not be stayed 752 pending action on the hearing.

753 ATCP 75.16 Appeals of actions by agent health departments. If an agent issues a
754 license under this chapter, the agent shall create and follow enforcement and appeal procedures
755 under s. 66.0417 Stats.

756 Subchapter IV – Standards for Retail Food Establishments

757 ATCP 75.18 Qualifications of an authorized representative conducting inspections. An 758 authorized representative of the department or its agent who inspects a retail food establishment
759 or conducts a plan review for compliance with ch. ATCP 75 and its Appendix shall meet the 760 staffing qualification requirements set forth in s. ATCP 74.08.

761 ATCP 75.20 Inspections. (1) REFUSED INSPECTION; PROCESS. If a person denies access to 762 the department or its agent, the department or its agent shall inform the person of all the following:

763 (a) The license holder is required to allow access to the department or its agent as specified
764 under s. ATCP 75.10 (1).

765 (b) Access is a condition of the acceptance and retention of a retail food establishment
766 license to operate as specified under s. ATCP 75.06 (3) (c).

767 (c) If the license holder denies access to a retail food establishment to an authorized 768 representative of the department or its agent, the department or its agent may apply for an 769 inspection warrant to allow access as provided in law under s. 66.0119, Stats.

770 (2) REPORTING OF REFUSED ACCESS. If the person in charge continues to refuse access after 771 the department or its agent presents credentials, the explanation in sub. (1), and makes a final 772 request for access, the department or its agent shall document details of the denial of access on 773 an inspection report form.

774 (3) FREQUENCY OF INSPECTION. (a) The department or its agent shall inspect a retail food
775 establishment at least once during the licensing period.

776 (b) The department may approve, upon request, an increase in the interval between 777 inspections beyond 12 months if any of the following conditions exist:

778 1. The retail food establishment is fully complying with a department-approved HACCP
779 plan as specified in ch. ATCP 75 Appendix part 1-106.14.

780 2. The agent submits a plan to the department, requesting an inspection frequency based on 781 the risk of food establishment operations using criteria under s. ATCP 75.08 (1) (a) and (b). The 782 total number of inspections performed shall equal the number of licenses issued.

783 Note: The intent of this provision is to allow greater inspection frequency for high-risk retail food
784 establishments by decreasing inspection frequency for low-risk retail food establishments.

785 (4) INSPECTION DOCUMENTATION. The department or its agent shall document all of the 786 following on an inspection report form:

787 (a) Administrative information about the retail food establishment's legal identity, street
788 and mailing addresses, type of establishment and operation, inspection date, and other 789 information such as type of water supply and sewage disposal, status of the license, and 790 personnel certificates that may be required at the retail food establishment.

791 (b) The conditions or other violations from this chapter and ch. ATCP 75 Appendix, that 792 require corrective action by the license holder. An accompanying narrative shall contain all of 793 the following:

- 794 1. A factual description of the violation observed, including location of the observed 795 violation.
- 796 2. Citation and a brief description of the statute, administrative code, or local ordinance for 797 the observed violation.
- 798 3. A statement indicating what corrective action the license holder has taken, or shall take, 799 to regain compliance with the administrative rule, statute, or local ordinance.
- 800 4. Unless otherwise indicated on the inspection report, each violation shall have a 801 corrective action deadline. The corrective action deadline shall be based on the following 802 criteria:
- 803 a. The nature of the potential hazard involved and the complexity of the corrective action
804 needed. The department or its agent may agree to or specify additional time, not to exceed 72
805 hours after the inspection, for the license holder to correct violations of a priority item.
- 806 b. The license holder has a maximum time of 10 calendar days after the inspection for the 807 license holder to correct violations of a priority foundation item or HACCP Plan deviation as 808 defined in ch. ATCP 75 Appendix.
- 809 c. The license holder shall correct core items, as defined in ch. ATCP 75 Appendix, by a 810 deadline agreed to or specified by the department or its agent, but no later than 90 calendar days
811 after the inspection. The department or its agent may approve a written compliance schedule that 812 extends beyond 90 calendar days, if the license holder submits a written schedule of compliance 813 and no health hazard exists, or will, result from allowing an extended schedule for compliance.
- 814 (5) ISSUING A REPORT AND OBTAINING ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF RECEIPT. At the conclusion of 815 the inspection, an authorized representative of the department shall sign the completed
816 inspection report. The department or its agent shall then perform an exit interview and obtain a

817 signature on the inspection report from the license holder’s designated person in charge, as that 818 term is used in ch. ATCP 75 Appendix part 2-101.11(A). A copy of the inspection report shall 819 be left with the person in charge at the completion of the inspection or emailed or otherwise 820 presented within 2 business days after completion of the inspection.

821 (6) REFUSAL TO SIGN INSPECTION REPORT. If the license holder’s designated person in 822 charge refuses to sign the inspection report, the department or its agent shall do all of the 823 following:

824 (a) Inform the person who declines to sign the inspection report that a written 825 acknowledgment of receipt is not an agreement with findings.

826 (b) Inform the person that refusal to sign the inspection report will not affect the license
827 holder's obligation to correct the violations noted in the inspection report by the deadlines
828 specified.

829 (c) Document the refusal to sign in the inspection report.

830 (7) POSTING OF INSPECTION REPORTS. (a) The department and its agents shall make 831 inspection reports available to the public through a web-based portal.

832 (b) The department or its agents may not apply grades or scores to retail food
833 establishments based on inspection reports or other criteria.

834 Subchapter V – Vending Machines

835 ATCP 75.30 Applicability. (1) In addition to the specific requirements of ch. ATCP
836 75, vending machines shall meet applicable requirements in chapters 1 to 7 in ch. ATCP 75
837 Appendix.

838 (2) The provisions of this chapter apply to any vending machine offered for public use,
839 except a vending machine which dispenses only pastry items, which have a pH level of 4.6 or

840 below or a water activity (aw) value of 0.85 or less under standard conditions or are otherwise
841 not time/temperature control for safety foods, or prepackaged Grade A pasteurized milk or milk
842 products.

843 ATCP 75.32 Approval of vending machines and related equipment. (1) APPROVAL
844 AUTHORITY. All vending machines and related equipment used at a vending machine location
845 shall be approved by the department, using construction criteria developed by the National 846 Sanitation Foundation (NSF) or the National Automatic Merchandising Association (NAMA).

847 (2) INSPECTION FOR EVIDENCE OF APPROVAL. Whenever an authorized representative or 848 agent of the department inspects a vending machine and finds that the vending machine does not 849 contain an identifiable license as required under s. ATCP 75.06, the authorized representative or 850 agent of the department shall place the vending machine in a non-vend position by sealing the 851 money or credit card insert slot, as applicable. Failure of the operator to maintain a non-vend 852 condition until an authorized representative or agent of the department is satisfied that the 853 vending machine is properly licensed and identified shall be cause for an action under ss. 97.65,
854 97.72, and 97.73, Stats.

855 ATCP 75.34 Vending machine records. (1) A vending machine location record shall be

857 include all of the following location information for each machine:

- 858 (a) Complete street address of the building.
- 859 (b) The floor level in the building.
- 860 (c) The room or area on the floor.

861 (2) The entry under each machine in the vending machine location record shall include the 862 machine serial number and model number, the department's license number, and a designation of 863 the machine by primary vending purpose. Primary vending purposes are:

864 (a) Heated.

865 (b) Refrigerated.

866 (c) Beverages.

867 (d) Food other than beverages.

868 (e) A combination of any 2 of pars. (a) to (d).

869 ATCP 75.36 Maintenance and service connections. (1) REPLACEMENT PARTS. All 870 replacement parts and tubing shall be equal to or exceed original equipment specifications. Any 871 clear tubing used shall be replaced with clear tubing only. No part built in as a function of the 872 vending machine may be removed or bypassed.

873 (2) SERVICE CONNECTIONS. (a) Utility openings. All service connections through an exterior
874 wall of the machine, including water, gas, electrical and refrigeration connections, shall be 875 grommited or closed to prevent the entry of insects and rodents.

876 (b) Miscellaneous openings. Miscellaneous openings into the cabinet and through the 877 cabinet wall, other than coin entrance, money or credit card slots, coin returns, and crown
878 pullers, but including openings for optional service connections or alternate installations, shall be 879 provided with effective closures by the manufacturer. The closures shall be provided for these 880 not-in-use openings, and shall be easily identifiable, properly marked or adequately described in 881 the instruction manual for their intended use.

882 (c) Disconnection safeguards. All service connections to utilities shall be of a type that will 883 discourage their unauthorized or unintentional disconnection.

884 ATCP 75.38 Sanitization. (1) CLEANING AND SANITIZING FACILITIES. Approved facilities 885 for cleaning and sanitizing equipment shall be available for each vending machine location or at 886 a central location. At a central location, product contact surfaces shall be protected from 887 contamination during storage, transportation, and installation. Facilities for cleaning and 888 sanitizing shall include either a permanently fixed three-compartment sink large enough to 889 accommodate the immersion of the largest equipment and utensil or portable washing facilities
890 such as a service wagon, metal or plastic pails, or another mobile device which can be moved 891 from one location to another.

892 (2) CLEANED IN PLACE. In machines designed so that food-contact surfaces are not readily
893 removable, all surfaces intended for in-place cleaning shall be designed and fabricated so that all 894 of the following conditions are met:

895 (a) Cleaning and sanitizing solutions can be circulated throughout a fixed system using an 896 effective cleaning and sanitizing regimen.

897 (b) Cleaning and sanitizing solutions will contact all food-contact surfaces.

898 (c) The system is self-draining or capable of being completely evacuated.

899 (d) The procedures used result in thorough cleaning and sanitizing of the equipment.

900 ATCP 75.40 Waste disposal. (1) REMOVAL. All trash and other food product waste
901 material shall be removed from the vending machine location as frequently as may be necessary 902 to prevent attracting vermin, or creating a nuisance and unsightliness, and shall be disposed of in 903 a manner that will not attract insects or rodents.

904 (2) CONTAINERS. Self-closing, leak-proof and easily cleanable refuse containers shall be 905 provided in the vicinity of each machine or machines to receive cartons, wrappers, and other 906 items of refuse.

907 (3) WASTE COLLECTION. (a) Containers shall be provided within all machines dispensing 908 liquid products in bulk for the collection of drip, spillage, overflow, and other internal wastes.

909 (b) An automatic shutoff device shall be provided, which will place the vending machine
910 out of operation before a container overflows. The cutoff mechanism shall be set at a point to 911 permit removal of the waste container from the machine without spillage.

912 (c) Containers and surfaces on which wastes may accumulate shall be readily removable for 913 cleaning, easily cleanable, and corrosion resistant.

914 ATCP 75.42 Delivery of foods. Foods, including beverages and ingredients, in transit to 915 vending machine locations shall be protected from contamination with dirt, dust, insects, rodents, 916 and other foreign material. Similar protection shall be provided for single-service containers, as 917 defined in ch. ATCP 75 Appendix part 1-201.10, and for the product contact surfaces of 918 equipment, containers, and devices in transit to machine locations.

919 Subchapter VI — Micro Markets

920 ATCP 75.44 Applicability of rules. This chapter and chapters 1 to 7 in ch. ATCP 75
921 Appendix, except for Part 2-1, apply to a micro market, as defined in s. ATCP 75.04 (22).

922 ATCP 75.46 Location. A micro market shall be located in the interior of a building that is 923 not accessible to the general public. Access to the micro market shall be limited to a defined

930 (d) Food is maintained at safe temperatures during storage, transport and display.

931 (2) MICRO MARKET OVERSIGHT. Each micro market shall have a sign readily visible at the 932 automated payment station stating all of the following:

933 (a) The name and mailing address of the license holder responsible for the establishment
934 and to whom complaints and comments should be addressed.

935 (b) The telephone, email, or web information for the responsible license holder, when 936 applicable.

937 ATCP 75.50 Nature and source of food and beverages offered for sale. All of the 938 following requirements apply to a micro market:

939 (1) A license holder shall offer only commercially packaged foods properly labeled for 940 individual retail sale.

941 (2) Food preparation by consumers is limited to heating or reheating food in a microwave
942 oven.

943 (3) Dispensing of bulk food is prohibited.

944 ATCP 75.52 Equipment. (1) REFRIGERATED DISPLAY EQUIPMENT FEATURES. A micro
945 market offering refrigerated or frozen foods shall be equipped with refrigeration or freezer units
946 that have all of the following features:

947 (a) Self-closing doors that allow food to be viewed without opening the door to the

955 SECTION 2. ATCP 75 Appendix, Wisconsin Food Code, is repealed and recreated to read:

Wisconsin Food Code

PREFACE

Information to Assist the User

The following information explains the organizational format and the meaning of explanatory conventions used in the Wisconsin Food Code, intended to make the Code easier to use.

Structural Nomenclature

Each chapter of the Food Code is divided into the following subunits. The system of numbering for a chapter and any of its subunits uses the following format:

Chapter	9
Part	9-1
Subpart	9-101
Section (§)	9-101.11
Paragraph (¶)	9-101.11 (A)
Subparagraph	9-101.11 (A) (1)

Code provisions are either appropriate for citing and debiting on an inspection report or they are not. Those not intended for citing/debiting are identified by the digits following the decimal point in the numbering system. These “nondebitable” provisions fall into two categories, those that end with two digits after the decimal point and the last digit is a zero, e.g., § 1–201.10; and those that end with three digits after the decimal point and the last 2 digits are zeros, e.g., § 8–805.100.

Two types of internal cross referencing are widely used throughout the Code to eliminate the need for restating provisions.

A. The first type of cross reference uses phrases that contain the word “under,” e.g., “as specified under... (followed by the relevant portion of the Code).”

The purpose of this type of cross reference is to:

- 1) Alert the reader to relevant information, and
- 2) Provide a system by which each violation is recorded under the one most appropriate provision. This type of cross reference signals to the reader the provision of the Code under which a certain violation is properly cited/debited.

B. The second type of cross reference uses phrases that contain the word “in,” e.g., “as specified in...(followed by the relevant portion of the Code).”

The purpose of this type of cross reference is to:

- 1) Indicate the specific provisions of a separate document such as a federal regulation that are being incorporated by reference in the requirement of the Code, e.g., ¶ 3–201.11 (C); or
- 2) Refer the reader to a nondebitable provision of the Code providing further information for consideration, such as provision for an exception or for an allowance to comply via an alternative method.

For example, ¶ 3–201.16 (A) begins with “Except as specified in ¶ (B)...” and ¶ (B) states the relevant exceptions to ¶ (A). Paragraph 3–201.11 (E) states in part, “... as specified in ¶ 3–401.11 (C)” and ¶ 3–401.11 (C) provides for an allowance to serve or sell raw or undercooked, whole–meat, intact beef steaks in a ready–to–eat form.

If you review the exception in ¶ 3–201.16 (B) and the allowance in ¶ 3–401.11 (C), you will see that exceptions and allowances often contain conditions of compliance, i.e., conditions that must be met in order for the exception or allowance to apply.

Based on the violation being cited, the substance of the text being referred to and the context in which the reference is made, users of the Code must infer the intent of the cross reference. That is, the user must determine if the cross reference simply alerts the user to additional information about the requirement or if the cross reference:

- sends (via the word “under”) the citing/debiting to another Code provision; or
- incorporates (via the word “in”) the referenced requirements into the Code provision.

The Wisconsin Food Code presents requirements by principle rather than by subject. For example, equipment requirements are presented under headings such as Materials, Design and Construction, Numbers and Capacities, Location and Installation, and Maintenance and Operation rather than by refrigerators, sinks, and thermometers. In this way, provisions need be stated only once rather than repeated for each piece or category of equipment. Where there are special requirements for specific equipment, the requirement is delineated under the appropriate principle (e.g., Design and Construction) and listed separately in the index.

Categories of Importance:

Priority Items, Priority Foundation Items, and Core Items

Requirements contained in the Food Code are identified as being in one of 3 categories of importance:

PRIORITY ITEM (i.e., a provision in this Code whose application contributes directly to the elimination, prevention or reduction to an acceptable level, hazards associated with foodborne illness or injury and there is no other provision that more directly controls the hazard);

PRIORITY FOUNDATION ITEM (i.e., a provision in this Code whose application supports, facilitates, or enables one or more PRIORITY ITEMS); and

CORE ITEM (i.e., a provision in this Code that is not designated as a PRIORITY ITEM or a PRIORITY FOUNDATION ITEM and that usually relates to general sanitation, operational controls, sanitation standard operating procedures (SSOPs), facilities or structures, equipment design, or general maintenance).

A “P” or “Pf” designation after a paragraph or subparagraph indicates that the provision within that section is a PRIORITY ITEM or PRIORITY FOUNDATION ITEM. Any unmarked provisions within a section are CORE ITEMS.

Font Style

Italics Text Portions of some sections are written in italics. These provisions are not requirements, but are provided to convey relevant information about specific exceptions and alternative means for compliance. Italics are often pursuant to a preceding provision that states a requirement, to which the italics offer an exception or another possibility. Italicized sections usually involve the words “except for,” “may,” “need not,” or “does not apply.” See, e.g., ¶ 3–202.18 (D).

TEXT IN “caps” Defined words and terms are in “caps” in the text to indicate that they are defined under ¶ 1–201.10 (B) or § 12–101.12, and that the meaning of a provision is to be interpreted in the defined context. A concerted effort was also made to capitalize all forms and combinations of those defined words and terms that are related to the definition.

Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection

Final Regulatory Flexibility Analysis

Rule Subject: Retail Food Establishments and
the Wisconsin Food Code

Adm. Code Reference: ATCP 75, and ATCP 75 Appendix,
The Wisconsin Food Code

Rules Clearinghouse #: 17-074

DATCP Docket #: 15-R-16

Rule Summary

The rule updates Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 by incorporating significant rule provisions in the now-repealed Wis. Admin. Code ch. DHS 196 (Restaurants) and by repealing rules in Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 concerning agent programs. Agent program rules are currently found in Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 74 (Local Agents and Regulation), which also incorporates provisions from the repealed Wis. Admin. Code ch. DHS 192.

The transfer of DHS' FSRLS to DATCP's Division of Food Safety necessitated the merger of two food safety regulatory systems. One regulatory paradox was particularly in need of resolution: Restaurant operators could not wholesale food under the DHS rules, while RFE operators under DATCP's authority could engage in a limited amount of wholesaling without holding a food processing plant license. By statute, the Department now licenses restaurants as RFEs, and therefore, restaurants enjoy the same limited ability to wholesale food. The Department undertook the present rule-making process and by January of 2018 had developed a draft rule that for the first time included definitions of "wholesale" and "retail". The Department initially proposed to retain certain limitations and requirements derived from Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70 (Food Processing Plants) addressed to food processing activities for wholesale conducted by an RFE. The Department presented a final draft reflecting that framework to the Board of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection ("Board") in January 2018. Although the Board approved the draft, it became apparent in the aftermath of the Board meeting that industry participants felt that less restrictive limits and definitions would still adequately protect public health.

In light of this feedback, the Department opted to form a work group comprised of industry and local health department agent program representatives to further revise the rule. During deliberations, the work group determined that the safety of many food processing activities for wholesale, when done by RFEs, could be ensured by compliance with ATCP 75 and the ATCP 75 Appendix, and thus, no additional application of ATCP 70 requirements was necessary. The work group recognized that additional training would be necessary for local health department agent personnel, along with Department sanitarians, assigned to inspect RFEs performing these food processing activities for wholesale. The Department, as part of its ongoing work to train thoroughly food safety personnel at the state and local level, is committed to providing the necessary training.

The work group extensively discussed whether an RFE conducting food processing activities for wholesale, yet exempt from having to hold a food processing plant license, should be required to develop a written recall plan (as required in ATCP 70). Dairy plants and food processing plants must develop a written recall plan, but the work group reached consensus that this requirement was poorly suited and likely ineffective for businesses predominantly engaged in retail activities. As a result, the revised rule states that RFEs are responsible for notifying their wholesale customers of any adulterated or misbranded products that the RFE may have sold to them, as deemed appropriate for the protection of public health. The RFE operator will choose the notification mechanism.

The work group's efforts culminated in the newly revised final draft of ATCP 75, which does all of the following: a) re-defines "wholesale" and "retail", b) clarifies the exemption for RFEs from the requirement to hold a food processing plant license when conducting limited (not more than 25% of gross annual food sales) food processing activities for wholesale, and c) re-draws boundaries on what types of food processing activities for wholesale are allowed. Perhaps the most important change in the wholesale and retail definitions is that the Department will no longer regard the transfer of food between two RFEs or food processing plants as wholesaling, so long as the same license holder operates the two businesses involved and the licensee transferring the food does not relinquish control of the food. This change reflects current guidance by the FDA and follows the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) interpretations related to differentiating "retail" from "wholesale" transactions involving meat and poultry products.

The revised definitions for "wholesale" and "retail" reflect industry practice and the de facto usage of these terms in the marketplace, as well as the FDA's interpretation and sanction of current industry practice. The new definitions also appear in the pending revision to Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70 (Food Processing Plants). The revised rule does continue to prohibit RFEs from processing canned low-acid or acidified foods for wholesale without holding a food processing plant license and complying with the requirements stated in Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70. The aim of the update definitions is to promote clarity and uniformity and ideally to facilitate enhanced business opportunities for industry participants.

RFEs operate under a wide range of business models, ranging from traditional restaurants, bakeries, and markets where all sales are made directly to consumers, on the one hand, to larger operations performing varying degrees of processing and wholesaling, on the other hand. The revisions to the rule take cognizance of a recently introduced business model in which a licensed RFE transports prepared food and conducts sales of individual meals directly to a workplace's employees or guests of employees, for a limited number of days each week. Within boundaries delineated in the rule, an additional RFE license is not required for the workplace meal sales. The work group reviewed and approved this revision.

Some RFEs perform food processing for wholesale activities, which are regulated at the federal level by the FDA. This rule revision is calculated to ensure that these businesses do not fall outside the sweep of appropriate regulation. Wisc Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 and its Appendix specifically govern retail sales and the internal transfer of food between businesses operated by the same license-holding entity. As revised, the rule, with the addition of federal requirements for juice and seafood processing, will apply to RFEs that conduct wholesaling only to a limited extent ($\leq 25\%$ of gross annual food sales). Businesses that predominantly wholesale the food they process must effectuate enhanced food safety systems, as required by provisions in Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70.

With this rule revision, the Department has sought to eliminate duplication, clarify expectations, and, to the extent possible, avoid the need to procure multiple licenses for the same business. However, the Department justifiably weighed these objectives in the balance with safety concerns arising from gaps in regulation. Accordingly, this rule proposes that any business holding either a meat establishment license issued by the Department, or a grant of meat / poultry inspection from the federal government, must also obtain an RFE license if the business manufactures for retail sale any meat or poultry products that are never produced under meat inspection and never bear an inspection legend. Prior to this rule revision, meat establishments were allowed to retail up to 25% of total meat sales without holding an RFE license because of the frequent state or federal inspection of meat processing overall. However, it was adjudged during recent discussions that the available meat inspection resources are insufficient to adequately oversee meat and poultry products sold at retail without the state or federal mark of inspection and other safeguards attendant upon RFE status. Federal meat inspection staff are explicitly directed not to inspect retail meat and food operations. The rule revision eliminates the above-described exemption from the requirement to hold an RFE license. Expectations will thus be identical to those for businesses already licensed as RFEs to produce meat and poultry products only for retail sale.

The rule also defines and clarifies the rules for micro-markets, vending machines, and the vending machine commissaries defined in statute as serving both of those business types. The Department will license vending machine commissaries as food processing plants, which reflects the operations of these commissaries. In addition, the Department defines micro-markets so as to acknowledge that the latter typically operate without a human on the premises at all times to oversee operations, which is a requirement for other types of RFEs.

The revised Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 Appendix, Wisconsin Food Code, provides greater clarification regarding variances and Hazard Analysis Critical Control Point (“HACCP”) plans, including the procedure for variance applications. New language also simplifies the protocols that establishments must follow when performing vacuum packing and sous-vide processing.

A significant change in the Wisconsin Food Code pertains to cheese curds. The Department based the revised language on a recent study of the likelihood of pathogenic bacterial growth on cheese curds. The study validates the current 24-hour-at-room-temperature limit for display of cheese curds processed under Cheddar cheese-making conditions. This scientific support of storage requirements for cheese curds allows the Department to meet Standard 1 of the FDA's Voluntary National Retail Food Regulatory Standards Program by providing validation for any protocols that differ substantively from the FDA Model Food Code.

In response to industry comments, the Department added requirements for rendering recent inspection results available to the public, along with a prohibition against any grading or scoring of RFEs based on inspection reports or other criteria. The intent of these provisions is to avoid problems arising in the event that different jurisdictions utilize discrepant grading or scoring systems or some jurisdictions employed a grading system while others did not. The Department believes that actual inspection reports will tend to be more informative than grades or scores and will allow consumers to draw their own conclusions about the merits of a given RFE.

This revised rule also harmonizes the different requirements that previously existed across DHS and DFS rules as to mobile RFE bases. The enforcement of divergent sets of rules had created a licensing inequity as between various individual operations, depending on the agency conducting oversight. The proposed rule eliminates these inconsistencies and standardizes the requirements for those bases.

Finally, the rule renumbers and consolidates many provisions in the Wisconsin Food Code so as to enable greater ease of use and to allow for the intercalation of provisions pertaining to micro-markets and vending machines. The Department has also revised the criteria for setting licensing fees, shifting from basing fees on income and sales volume to a model based primarily on risk and complexity.

Small Businesses Affected

The rule is not anticipated to have a major economic effect on small retail food establishments since it mainly replaces and updates current rules. No comments were received during the economic impact comment period held August 8, 2017 - September 7, 2017. However, feedback on the rule was solicited from members of the Food Safety Advisory Council (FSAC), a group comprised of business and local health department agent representatives.

For those small retail food establishments requiring a licensed base, already-licensed mobile retail food establishments serving meals will see no change in requirements because their bases were licensed under the DHS rules that were transferred to the Department. Mobile retail food establishments that operate at special events or at temporary events will not need a licensed base, just as mobile retail food establishments serving meals operating at temporary events (such as farmers' markets) currently do not need a licensed base.

For those operators with a base serving mobile retail food establishments that only sell non-perishable packaged foods, the effect will also be minimal. The only small-scale operators who may face increased regulatory requirements, and the associated expenses to meet them, are those operators who are also doing complex processing and preparation of potentially hazardous food for wholesale. Some activities performed in those settings must also be done under the HACCP system, such as fish processing that would require implementation of a Seafood HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR 123, as cited in Wis. Admin. Code s. ATCP 70.44), and juice processing that would require implementation of a Juice HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR 120, as cited in Wis. Admin. Code s. ATCP 70.60).

The proposed rule modifies the criteria for assigning license fees. For purposes of pragmatism, the rule tethers the cost of a given license to the complexity and risk of the food safety hazards associated with the particular activity, and not solely to the size of the RFE and the dollar volume of sales. In many cases, larger establishments that may have been paying a higher license fee because of the sales volume will now pay a lower fee if their processing is not complex or hazardous. A low number of small businesses may face an increased license fee if they are conducting complex or hazardous activities that require increased attention during inspections. However, the Department's analyses suggest that the overall change in total license fees charged will be negligible. The proposed licensing fee criteria more fairly reflect the time and personnel costs to the Department for the inspection.

The requirement to obtain a retail food establishment license in order to conduct retail sales of meat or poultry products that do not bear an inspection legend should not pose a major regulatory burden on small meat establishments operating under state or federal meat inspection programs. Both meat inspection programs require all inspected products to be produced under HACCP. The retail program accepts state or federal HACCP plans for cured or shelf-stable products, and already requires HACCP plans for such products made only under a retail food establishment license.

Reporting, Bookkeeping and other Procedures

The proposed rule would not require any additional reporting, bookkeeping, or other procedures.

Professional Skills Required

The proposed rule does not require any new professional skills for small businesses.

Accommodation for Small Business

The FDA does not make accommodations for food safety practices based on size, so Wisconsin does not do so either. Instead, the rule is tied to the complexity of the business. The rule ties the cost of a retail food establishment license to the complexity of the processing activities going on and the food safety risk of those activities. In some cases, larger establishments that may have been paying a higher license fee because of the sales volume will now have that fee reduced if their processing is not complex. The proposed licensing fee criteria more fairly reflects the time and personnel costs to the Department for the inspection.

As noted, feedback on the rule was solicited from members of FSAC, and consensus about final revisions was obtained in an industry-local agent working group. The proposed changes in criteria for license fees were tested by hypothetically applying the criteria to businesses familiar to FSAC members and by evaluating the license fee change to each retail food establishment in a representative county.

Conclusion

The provisions in the rule will benefit Wisconsin's retail food industry and are expected to impose very limited additional costs. It is quite possible that many large, non-complex establishments will actually see a reduction in cost since they are no longer charged for a license based solely on size and dollar volume of sales.

This rule will not have a significant adverse effect on "small business" and is not subject to the delayed "small business" effective date provided in Wis. Stat. § 227.22(2)(e).

DATCP will, to the maximum extent feasible, seek voluntary compliance with this rule.

4. Plain Language Analysis of the Rule, its Impact on the Policy Problem that Justified its Creation and Changes in Technology, Economic Conditions or Other Factors Since Promulgation that alter the need for or effectiveness of the Rule.

The proposed rule modifies Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 by incorporating significant rule provisions of repealed Wis. Admin. Code ch. DHS 196 (Restaurants) and repealing provisions of Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 dealing with agent programs. Agent program rules are now found in Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 74 (Local Agents and Regulation), which also incorporates provisions from the repealed Wis. Admin. Code ch. DHS 192.

The transfer of DHS' FSRLS to DATCP's Division of Food Safety necessitated the merger of two food safety regulatory systems. One regulatory paradox was particularly in need of resolution: Restaurant operators could not wholesale food under the DHS rules, while RFE operators under DATCP's authority could engage in a limited amount of wholesaling without holding a food processing plant license. By statute, the Department now licenses restaurants as RFEs and, therefore restaurants enjoy the same limited ability to wholesale food. The Department undertook the present rulemaking process and by January of 2018 had developed a draft rule that for the first time included definitions of "wholesale" and "retail". The Department initially proposed to retain certain limitations and requirements derived from Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70 (Food Processing Plants) addressed to food processing activities for wholesale conducted by an RFE. The Department presented a final draft reflecting that framework to the Board of Agriculture, Trade and Consumer Protection ("Board") in January 2018. Although the Board approved the draft, it became apparent in the aftermath of the Board meeting that industry participants felt that less restrictive limits and definitions would still adequately protect public health.

In light of this feedback, the Department opted to convene a work group comprised of industry and local health department agent program representatives to further revise the rule. In the course of its deliberations, the work group concluded that the safety of many food processing activities for wholesale, when performed by RFEs, could be ensured by compliance with Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 and the ATCP 75 Appendix, and thus no further recourse to the strictures of Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70 was needful. The work group recognized that additional training would be necessary for local health department agent personnel, as well as Department sanitarians, who are assigned to inspect RFEs performing these food processing activities for wholesale. The Department, as part of its ongoing mission to train thoroughly food safety personnel at the state and local level, is committed to providing the necessary training.

The work group extensively discussed the question of whether an RFE that conducts food processing activities for wholesale, yet that is exempt from having to hold a food processing plant license, should be required to develop a written recall plan (as required by Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70). Dairy plants and food processing plants are required to develop written recall plans, but the work group reached a consensus that this requirement was poorly suited to and likely ineffective for businesses predominantly engaged in retail activities. As a result, the revised rule provides that RFEs bear responsibility for notifying their wholesale customers of any adulterated or misbranded products that the RFE may have sold to them, as deemed appropriate for the protection of public health. The RFE operator is to choose the notification mechanism.

EXISTING ADMINISTRATIVE RULES Fiscal Estimate & Economic Impact Analysis

The work group's efforts culminated in the newly revised final draft rule, which does all of the following: a) redefines "wholesale" and "retail", b) clarifies the exemption for RFEs from the requirement to hold a food processing plant license when conducting limited (not more than 25% of gross annual food sales) food processing activities for wholesale, and c) redraws the boundaries defining permissible types of food processing activities for wholesale. Perhaps the most salient change reflected in the new definitions of "wholesale" and "retail" is that the Department will no longer deem as wholesaling a transfer of food between two RFEs or food processing plants, as long as the same license holder operates the two businesses involved, and the licensee transferring the food does not relinquish control of the food. This change reflects current guidance by the FDA and follows the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA)'s parsings of "wholesale" and "retail" in connection with the differentiation of retail and wholesale transactions involving meat and poultry products.

The revised definitions for "wholesale" and "retail" reflect industry practice and the de facto usage of these terms in the marketplace, as well as the FDA's readings of the terms and its sanction of current industry practice. The new definitions also appear in the pending revision to Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70 (Food Processing Plants). The revised rule does continue to prohibit RFEs from processing canned low-acid or acidified foods for wholesale without holding a food processing plant license and complying with the requirements stated in Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70. The aim of the update definitions is to promote clarity and uniformity and ideally to facilitate enhanced business opportunities for industry participants.

RFEs operate under a wide range of business models, ranging from traditional restaurants, bakeries, and markets where all sales are made directly to consumers, on the one hand, to larger operations performing varying degrees of processing and wholesaling, on the other hand. The revisions to the rule take cognizance of a recently introduced business model in which a licensed RFE transports prepared food and conducts sales of individual meals directly to a workplace's employees or guests of employees, for a limited number of days each week. Within boundaries delineated in the rule, an additional RFE license is not required for the workplace meal sales. The work group reviewed and approved this revision.

Some RFEs perform food processing for wholesale activities, which are regulated at the federal level by the FDA. This rule revision is calculated to ensure that these businesses do not fall outside the sweep of appropriate regulation. Wisc Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 and its Appendix specifically govern retail sales and the internal transfer of food between businesses operated by the same license-holding entity. As revised, the rule, with the addition of federal requirements for juice and seafood processing, will apply to RFEs that conduct wholesaling only to a limited extent (< 25% of gross annual food sales). Businesses that predominantly wholesale the food they process must effectuate enhanced food safety systems, as required by provisions in Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 70.

With this rule revision, the Department has sought to eliminate duplication, clarify expectations, and, to the extent possible, avoid the need to procure multiple licenses for the same business. However, the Department must weigh these objectives in the balance with safety concerns arising from gaps in regulation. Accordingly, this rule proposes that any business holding either a meat establishment license issued by the Department, or a grant of meat / poultry inspection from the federal government, must also obtain an RFE license if the business manufactures for retail sale any meat or poultry products that are never produced under meat inspection and never bear an inspection legend. Prior to this rule revision, meat establishments were allowed to retail up to 25% of total meat sales without holding an RFE license because of the frequent state or federal inspection of meat processing overall. However, it was adjudged during recent discussions that the available meat inspection resources are insufficient to adequately oversee meat and poultry products sold at retail without the state or federal mark of inspection and other safeguards attendant upon RFE status. Federal meat inspection staff are explicitly directed not to inspect retail meat and food operations. The rule revision eliminates the above-described exemption from the requirement to hold an RFE license. Expectations will thus be identical to those for businesses already licensed as RFEs to produce meat and poultry products only for retail sale.

The rule also defines and clarifies the rules for micro-markets, vending machines, and the vending machine commissaries defined in statute as serving both of those business types. The Department will license vending machine commissaries as food processing plants, which reflects the operations of these commissaries. In addition, the Department defines micro-markets so as to acknowledge that the latter typically operate without a human on the premises at all times to oversee operations, which is a requirement for other types of RFEs.

The revised Wis. Admin. Code ch. ATCP 75 Appendix, Wisconsin Food Code, provides greater clarification regarding variances and Hazard Analysis Critical Control Point (“HACCP”) plans, including the procedure for variance applications. New language also simplifies the protocols that establishments must follow when performing vacuum packing and sous-vide processing.

A significant change in the Wisconsin Food Code pertains to cheese curds. The Department based the revised language on a recent study of the likelihood of pathogenic bacterial growth on cheese curds. The study validates the current 24-hour-at-room-temperature limit for display of cheese curds processed under Cheddar cheese-making conditions. This scientific support of storage requirements for cheese curds allows the Department to meet Standard 1 of the FDA’s Voluntary National Retail Food Regulatory Standards Program by providing validation for any protocols that differ substantively from the FDA Model Food Code.

In response to industry comments, the Department added requirements for rendering recent inspection results available to the public, along with a prohibition against any grading or scoring of RFEs based on inspection reports or other criteria. The intent of these provisions is to avoid problems arising in the event that different jurisdictions utilize discrepant grading or scoring systems or some jurisdictions employed a grading system while others did not. The Department believes that actual inspection reports will tend to be more informative than grades or scores and will allow consumers to draw their own conclusions about the merits of a given RFE.

This revised rule also harmonizes the different requirements that previously existed across DHS and DFS rules as to mobile RFE bases. The enforcement of divergent sets of rules had created a licensing inequity as between various individual operations, depending on the agency conducting oversight. The proposed rule eliminates these inconsistencies and standardizes the requirements for those bases.

Finally, the rule renumbers and consolidates many provisions in the Wisconsin Food Code so as to enable greater ease of use and to allow for the intercalation of provisions pertaining to micro-markets and vending machines. The Department has also revised the criteria for setting licensing fees, shifting from basing fees on income and sales volume to a model based primarily on risk and complexity.

5. Describe the Rule’s Enforcement Provisions and Mechanisms

The Department has broad general authority, pursuant to Wis. Stat. s. 93.07 (1), to adopt rules to implement programs under its jurisdiction. The Department also has general authority, pursuant to Wis. Stat. s. 97.09 (4), to adopt rules specifying standards to protect the public from the sale of adulterated or misbranded foods. The Department has specific authority, pursuant to Wis. Stat. s. 97.30 (5), to adopt rules for RFEs concerning fees; to set facility construction and maintenance standards; to set rules for the design, installation, maintenance, and cleaning of equipment and utensils; personnel sanitation; food handling, display, and storage; food sources and food labeling.

7. Summary of the Impacts, including Compliance Costs, identifying any Unnecessary Burdens the Rule places on the ability of Small Business to conduct their Affairs.

The rule is not anticipated to have a major economic effect on small retail food establishments since it mainly replaces and updates current rules. No comments were received during the economic impact comment period held August 8, 2017 - September 7, 2017. However, feedback on the rule was solicited from members of the Food Safety Advisory Council (FSAC), a group comprised of business and local health department agent representatives.

For those small retail food establishments requiring a licensed base, already-licensed mobile retail food establishments serving meals will see no change in requirements because their bases were licensed under the DHS rules that were transferred to the Department. Mobile retail food establishments that operate at special events or at temporary events will not need a licensed base, just as mobile retail food establishments serving meals operating at temporary events (such as farmers' markets) currently do not need a licensed base.

For those operators with a base serving mobile retail food establishments that only sell non-perishable packaged foods, the effect will also be minimal. The only small-scale operators who may face increased regulatory requirements, and the associated expenses to meet them, are those operators who are also doing complex processing and preparation of potentially hazardous food for wholesale. Some activities performed in those settings must also be done under the HACCP system, such as fish processing that would require implementation of a Seafood HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR 123, as cited in Wis. Admin Code s. ATCP 70.44), and juice processing that would require implementation of a Juice HACCP system (as required in 21 CFR 120, as cited in Wis. Admin. Code s. ATCP 70.60).

The proposed rule modifies the criteria for assigning license fees. For purposes of pragmatism, the rule tethers the cost of a given license to the complexity and risk of the food safety hazards associated with the particular activity, and not solely to the size of the RFE and the dollar volume of sales. In many cases, larger establishments that may have been paying a higher license fee because of the sales volume will now pay a lower fee if their processing is not complex or hazardous. A low number of small businesses may face an increased license fee if they are conducting complex or hazardous activities that require increased attention during inspections. However, the Department's analyses suggest that the overall change in total license fees charged will be negligible. The proposed licensing fee criteria more fairly reflect the time and personnel costs to the Department for the inspection.

The requirement to obtain a retail food establishment license in order to conduct retail sales of meat or poultry products that do not bear an inspection legend should not pose a major regulatory burden on small meat establishments operating under state or federal meat inspection programs. Both meat inspection programs require all inspected products to be produced under HACCP. The retail program accepts state or federal HACCP plans for cured or shelf-stable products, and already requires HACCP plans for such products made only under a retail food establishment license.

8. List of Small Businesses, Organizations and Members of the Public that commented on the Rule and its Enforcement and a Summary of their Comments.

No comments were received during the economic impact comment period held August 8, 2017 - September 7, 2017. However, feedback on the rule was solicited at this stage from members of the Food Safety Advisory Council (FSAC), a group comprised of business and local health department agent representatives. The Department held five public hearings on the proposed rule: (1) November 16, 2017 in Sheboygan; (2) November 22, 2017 in Rhinelander; (3)

November 24, 2017 in Madison; (4) December 1, 2017 in Eau Claire; and (5) December 8, 2017, in Shawano, Wisconsin. Public hearing notices were posted at the State Legislature's Active Rules Clearinghouse website and in the Administrative Register. Electronic notices were sent out to all licensed businesses for which the Department had e-mail addresses. Information about the hearings was specifically sent to Susan Quam of the Wisconsin Restaurant Association, Michelle Kussow of the Wisconsin Grocers Association, and Jay Ellingson of Kwik Trip, Inc.

A total of 35 persons/organizations attended the hearings and/or submitted comments. The comments addressed several issues, but many of them were form statements in opposition to the licensing exemptions for non-profits occasionally serving meals or food other than meals.

9. Did the Agency consider any of the following Rule Modifications to reduce the Impact of the Rule on Small Businesses in lieu of repeal?

- Less Stringent Compliance or Reporting Requirements
- Less Stringent Schedules or Deadlines for Compliance or Reporting
- Consolidation or Simplification of Reporting Requirements
- Establishment of performance standards in lieu of Design or Operational Standards
- Exemption of Small Businesses from some or all requirements

13. Summary of Costs and Benefits of Repealing or Modifying the Rule

This rule continues to ensure that Wisconsin's retail food establishments meet federal requirements by incorporating the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) Model Food Code. In order to have rules relevant to evolving business models, be in compliance with state statutory and federal requirements, and provide retail food establishments with new business opportunities related to wholesaling, the Department would like to implement the rule as soon as possible.

14. Did the Agency prepare a Cost Benefit Analysis (if Yes, attach to form)

- Yes No

15. Long Range Implications of Repealing or Modifying the Rule

The rule will continue to facilitate the working relationship between the Department, the FDA, and the retail food industry. If the rule is not revised, outdated and unnecessary regulations will remain in place, requiring both industry and the Department to spend unnecessary time on seeking variance approvals. This will negatively impact micro-markets, patrons with dogs in outdoor eating areas, and meat plants that will no longer be allowed to cure and smoke retail-only products under meat establishment licenses. Revision of the rule moves the licensing categories away from a sales-volume-based model, which is specifically not fair to large, non-complex facilities. Finally, revision of the rule lessens inconsistency and improves clarity for regulation of retail operations that serve meals and retail operations that do not serve meals, and the clearly states requirements and boundaries for retail food establishments performing food processing for wholesale activities.

16. Compare With Approaches Being Used by Federal Government

The FDA does not have a retail food inspection or regulation program. The FDA promulgates the Model Food Code, a guide used in formulating state regulations or adopted by state programs to promote a uniform level of food safety throughout the nation.

17. Compare With Approaches Being Used by Neighboring States (Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Minnesota)

This rule is generally consistent with rules in neighboring states. Surrounding states have all adopted various versions of the FDA's Model Food Code. The criteria for retail food establishment license fees differ somewhat from those in surrounding states, in the emphasis placed on complexity and risk of food safety hazards.

IL: Retail food establishments in Illinois are licensed at the county or municipal level. Cook County does not have a separate category for mobile retail food establishment bases. Licensing fees for retail food establishments are based on whether the establishment has seats for customers and if not, the total area occupied by the business. Chicago differentiates licenses for mobile food dispensers and mobile food preparers.

MN: Minnesota has different license categories for mobile and stationary retail food businesses, with the fee based on sales volume. There is no separate Minnesota license category for mobile retail food establishment bases. Retail food establishments (not restaurants) in Minnesota are primarily regulated by the Department of Agriculture. Minnesota restaurants are primarily regulated by county or municipal agencies. Hennepin County, for example, sets license fees based on menu breadth, degree of hazard of menu items, and size of operation, with separate categories for mobile and itinerant businesses.

IA: Iowa has a separate license category for a commissary serving a mobile retail food establishment. The retail food establishment category in Iowa includes restaurants.

MI: Michigan includes restaurants as a type of retail food establishment and has separate categories for mobile and mobile commissary operations.
